BY LOYD A. WILHOIT.

You've heard of the beautiful sirens whose songs lured the sailors of Ulysses to a watery death, and of the gorgeous Circe who snared men and transformed them into pigs. The girls certainly had appeal—so much so, in fact, that with a little polishing and improving they could almost qualify as 1929 models and stack up favorably alongside the sleek mechanical sirens and Circes that even now are humming songs of soft appeal to lovers of beautiful automobiles at the Southeastern Automobile Show.

Monday the doors of the City Auditorium swung open to the automotive exposition that annually sets this part of the world's most prosperous nation by the ears. While Rudy Brown and his boys played a seductive tune, the great Atlanta public filed in and got the biggest and best eye-full of automobiles it has ever enjoyed.

More than 10,000 Atlantans were first-day visitors at the show, which was opened to the public at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. This was said to be the largest single day's crowd ever attending such an event in this section of the country, and confirms advance reports from the local show headquarters that this year's exposition would set a new attendance record.

Surpassing all previous shows in style, beauty and color, the exhibition is everything that has been claimed for it. The dealers and distributors have fulfilled every promise and everything that is new in automobiles is displayed to the public's inspection.

The first sale registered at the show came only a few minutes after the doors had opened. It represented the purchase of a brand new coach by J. L. Christian, of 415 North street, who purchased a new model car which is being shown in Atlanta for the first time. This sale, however, was only one of many reported. After a check-up of all the exhibits it was found that 25 orders had been taken during the first day, a figure according to show officials and "old timers," unprecedented in southern shows.

"The sales represent a desire to buy," said Director Foster B. Stewart, "as there is no selling allowed during this show and the public need have no fear of being coaxed into signing an order by overzealous salesmen. Officials want it well understood that the public can come to the auditorium and feel not the least bit of obligation."

Holder Silent But Janitors Foresee Call

Mop and Broom at Capitol Busy as Charming Sense Extra Session.

While Governor L. G. Hardman did not receive on Monday any official notice from John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway board, in reply to the governor's ultimatum that he resign his office not later than Tuesday, January 15, today, and while employees of Chairman Holder's office admitted that such a communication had not yet been sent, janitors at the state capitol were busy Monday afternoon cleaning the senate and house of representatives.

Significance of this situation lies in the fact that the governor, in his demand for Chairman Holder's resignation, stated that he would call a special session of the legislature to deal with the state highway department in the event Chairman Holder refused to resign.

Governor Hardman, when seen Monday, said that by the very nature of the situation, he had nothing to add to his statement of Saturday.

"I asked for Chairman Holder's resignation not later than Tuesday, in that statement," the governor said. "Naturally, until that time limit is up, there is nothing for me to add."

Mr. Holder did not visit his office at the state capitol on Monday, but told reporters late Monday that he would answer the governor today.

Governor Hardman, in his request for resignation, cited a letter from the federal bureau of roads, which charged the state highway department of Georgia with failure to pay federal aid funds promptly to contractors working on federal road projects and threatened to withhold further federal highway money from Georgia until this situation was straightened out.

Chairman Holder was quoted in press dispatches Sunday as stating positively that he would not resign his post until after the 1929 legislative convenes. He added that he would not be a candidate for the post after that time.

However, no official reply has yet been sent the governor, either agreeing or refusing to the demanded resignation not later than Tuesday.

In the meantime, mop and broom and dusting rag are busy in the senate and house of representatives of the Georgia general assembly.

YOUTH ON SKATES KILLED BY TRUCK

Harold Lindsey Bell, 13 Year-Old Fulton High School Student, Meets Instant Death.

Struck down by a heavy truck, Harold Bell, 13-year-old student of Fulton High school, was almost instantly killed Monday afternoon when crushed beneath the huge wheels of a truck loaded with coal.

Harold, with several companions, was skating on Johnson road, in S.W. corner of the city, near the river, when he was struck down by a truck of the Hardaway Coal company, operated by W. S. Long, of 1105 Bankhead avenue. An ambulance from Sam E. Greenberg & Co. rushed the youth to the hospital, but there it was found he had been almost instantly killed.

After investigation, county police lodged a charge of involuntary manslaughter against Long, who Monday night was being held at Fulton tower without bond. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bell, of Ruth street.

In addition to his parents, the youth leaves four brothers, Julian, Leonard, Robert and J. B. Bell, Jr., a sister, Catherine Bell, and his grandmothers, Mrs. E. L. Bell and Mrs. Mary Fuss. Funeral arrangements are to be announced later by Sam Greenberg & Co.

ALL DEPARTMENTS MUST ECONOMIZE, COMMITTEE SAYS

Current Anticipated Funds Will Not Relieve School Congestion in City, Members Report.

Every department of the Atlanta city government will be forced to operate this year on a strictly economic basis with appropriations cut to the bone, and if money to relieve congestion in junior and senior high schools is to be raised, it must come from some other source except current funds which are anticipated at the present time, according to members of the finance committee, which met Monday to prepare the January finance sheet.

A referendum designed to establish a school taxing zone in order to divorce the school department from the mayor and city council probably will be submitted to voters of the city, if plans of certain members of the finance body are carried out. The proposal would be to limit the levy for school purposes to 10 mills on the dollar and reduce the tax now levied by the city from 15 mills to 10.

Atlanta's anticipated revenue for the year is $10,183,000, and the school department is asking, in a tentative budget which Mayor L. N. Ragsdale approved Monday, for $3,728,000.

RESERVATIONISTS WIN FIRST BATTLE

Read Discloses Sufficient Strength To Block Treaty Confirmation Without Interpretation.

Washington, January 14.—(AP)—Senators favoring an interpretation of the Kellogg anti-war treaty today frustrated another proposal to limit debate on the pact by the senate, and this resulted in opening the door to the series of secret negotiations in an effort to straighten out the situation.

The "interpretationists" took the offensive during the day with Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, offering a resolution directing the foreign relations committee to submit a report embodying the views expressed on the floor of the senate by Chairman Borah of the treaty's construction.

Reed Holding Out. Until he can get definite assurance of a vote on that resolution Senator Reed is holding out against the limitation of debate sought by Senator Borah. Senators Reed, Moses, republican, New Hampshire, and Bingham, republican, Connecticut, who are leading the fight for a committee report on the treaty, said they were ready to agree to a vote on the treaty but they could obtain a vote on Reed's resolution.

After two hours of hickering on the floor for an agreement during which Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic leader's took sides with President Coolidge in an effort to break the deadlock, Senators Borah and Reed finally did some plain talking on their differences over an interpretative statement.

Senator Borah said that at one time Secretary Kellogg and himself had agreed to the drafting of a report by the foreign relations committee embodying the expressed view of Borah that the treaty did not infringe upon the nation's right of self defense. Then, he said, it was proposed that this report be transmitted to the other powers and to that the secretary and himself had objected and would continue to object.

Reed Discloses Poll. Senator Reed then disclosed that he had polled the democratic members and Senator Moses had polled the republican members and had obtained pledges from virtually the entire membership that no motion would be made to have the proposed committee report adopted and sent to the other powers.

Senator Borah, however, contended that publication in the meantime of the story of the negotiations had created an understanding in the minds of other governments that any manner of construction on the treaty by the senate or its foreign relations committee would amount to a reservation. For that reason, he said he could not assent even to the drafting of the committee report which is all that the "interpretationists" now ask.

Content that the 24 signatures received to their "friendship" resolution had clearly shown a distinct sentiment in the senate for a committee interpretation of the treaty, the Reed-Moses-Bingham group made no further effort today on this score. They insist that their purpose was not to defeat ratification of the treaty and that therefore no motion was necessary to accomplish that end were enrolled on their petition.

Directors Announce Stand Against Rockefeller in Tilt for Chairmanship of Company.

MOVE PRESAGES GENERAL FIGHT

Wall Street Hears Rumor of Combine of Kentucky, Ohio and Jersey Against Indiana.

Chicago, January 14.—President Edward G. Seubert, of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana in a statement tonight came out openly on the side of Colonel Robert W. Stewart in the latter's fight with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for control of the $750,000,000 Indiana oil corporation.

"I shall cast my votes for the reelection of Robert W. Stewart," Seubert's statement said. "I so informed Rockefeller several months ago and there has never been the slightest doubt as to my attitude. Any intimation to the contrary is without any foundation in fact."

This widening of the breach between Stewart and Rockefeller was rumored in Wall street as presaging a complete break between Standard Oil companies throughout the world. It was said that a merger of the Ohio and Kentucky companies under the leadership of the New Jersey company might be effected to fight Indiana. The Prairie and Sinclair pipe lines are rumored to be in the hands of Standard last year totaled $80 millions. Seubert added in his statement to stockholders, that the board of directors of the company was unanimous in favor of Stewart.

Rockefeller some time ago had asked for Stewart's resignation from the board of directors of the Indiana corporation. Stewart steadfastly has refused to comply with the oil magnate's demand, and recently the controversy was renewed when Rockefeller announced he would ask for proxies to be voted at the next meeting of the stockholders.

Colonel Stewart arrived in Chicago Saturday and announced he was ready for a final fight with Rockefeller and that he would meet the challenge with a request for the resignation of Robert W. Stewart, director and executive head of the company, be demanded by the board.

The "underground," being all of the members of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, except Robert W. Stewart, feel that it is necessary and proper at this time to inform the stockholders that on May 28, 1928, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., requested the resignation of Robert W. Stewart, director and executive head of the company, be demanded by the board.

Colonel Stewart's statement to the stockholders reads: "The undersigned, being all of the members of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, except Robert W. Stewart, feel that it is necessary and proper at this time to inform the stockholders that on May 28, 1928, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., requested the resignation of Robert W. Stewart, director and executive head of the company, be demanded by the board."

and having no doubts whatever as to Mr. Stewart's honesty and loyalty to the company, the board, by unanimous vote, and recently the controversy was renewed when Rockefeller announced he would ask for proxies to be voted at the next meeting of the stockholders.

Payment of $584,000 Equalization Fund Would Be in Contempt of Court, Is Opinion.

GAS TAX ATTACK PENDING IN COURT

Constitutionality of 4-Cent Levy, From Which School Fund Is Derived, Up to Supreme Court.

Probability that payment of $584,000, authorized Saturday by Governor L. G. Hardman and state department heads to the various counties for school equalization purposes, will be held up indefinitely, developed Monday.

Officials at the state capitol drew the attention of State Comptroller William A. Wright to an injunction, attacking the constitutionality of the act levying the four cent gasoline tax from which source the school equalization money is secured, was pending in the supreme court and it was stated that should the state pay out this money before the decision of the court is announced it could be held guilty of contempt of court. Should such an eventuality occur, it was believed that the officials responsible for the payments could be held liable for the amount involved under their bonds.

Fulton County Case. The case pending in the supreme court is from Fulton county and was brought by the board of county commissioners. They attacked the constitutionality of the act on the ground that the state could not levy a tax against gasoline used by a government unit. Should the supreme court uphold this contention, it was pointed out, the ruling would affect all county and municipal governments in Georgia and the amount of tax money—at the rate of four cents per gallon—would total a large amount.

The act involved, passed by the legislature of 1927, levies a tax of four cents against each gallon of gasoline sold in the state and appropriated two and one-half cents to the state system of highways, one cent to the counties on a basis of state road mileage, and one-half cent as an education fund.

DUKE WILL GIVE MUCH TO CHARITY

Over Million Dollars Distributed to Schools and Religious Organizations in South.

New York, January 14.—(AP)—Benjamin N. Duke, retired tobacco manufacturer and philanthropist, who died January 8, left more than $1,000,000 to charitable organizations, most of which are in North Carolina, his native state.

The bulk of the estate, the value of which once was estimated at from $500,000 to $2,000,000, was left to Mrs. A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., of New York, a daughter. The Angier B. Duke Memorial, Inc., at Durham, N. C., in memory of the capitalist's son who drowned in 1923, receives $500,000, while $588,000 is divided among southern religious and charitable organizations, chiefly Methodist institutions.

Mr. Duke and his father and brother were credited with having given $800,000 to philanthropies during their lifetime.

Mrs. Sarah P. Duke, of New York, the widow, receives the life use of two homes, one on Fifth avenue, here, and another at Durham. After her death the property goes to Mrs. Biddle. Duke said in his will that his wife's bequest was no larger because she "in ample manner" in which he had provided for her previously.

The document provided for the disbursement of a beneficiary who attempted to break the will and reversion of that person's bequest to the Angier B. Duke Memorial.

Trust funds of $100,000 each are established for two grandsons, Angier B. Duke, Jr., and Anthony Newton Duke, both of Old Westbury, Long Island. William R. Perkins, a friend of upper Montclair, N. J., is named executor and bequeathed $30,000. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., of New York, Mr. Duke's son-in-law, is a co-executor and the legatee of $20,000.

Some relatives receive bequests ranging from $5,000 to $10,000, and requests to charity range from $5,000 to $10,000.

DENTIST CLEARED OF ALL SUSPICION IN RUTH BURNING

Missing Owner Admits Woman Not His Wife and Police Drop Inquiry.

Watertown, Mass., January 14.—(AP)—Dr. Edward H. Kinder, Boston dentist, was questioned for nearly four hours late today by Watertown police concerning his relations with Mrs. George Herman Ruth, wife of Babe Ruth. Mrs. Ruth was burned to death in Dr. Kinder's home here late Friday night. She had been known to neighbors as Mrs. Helen Kinder.

Kinder hurried away with his attorney, James H. Vahey, immediately after the interview, but Chief of Police John F. Milmore revealed that Kinder said he never had married Mrs. Ruth, although he had lived with her at intervals since 1927.

"Dr. Kinder told us," said Chief Milmore, "that on Saturday night he walked the streets in distraction, fearing the story was coming out. He remained in seclusion on Sunday on the advice of his father, who told him there was plenty of time in which to come forward and that there was nothing to fear."

Kinder told him that he never had married Mrs. Ruth, although he had lived with her at intervals since 1927.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Robert T. Bunnell ordered a second autopsy on the body of Mrs. Ruth, at which he said he was satisfied there was no evidence that Mrs. Ruth died from any other cause except burns and suffocation.

Medical Examiner George L. West previously had reported that he had discovered no evidence that she had died from any other cause except burns and suffocation.

Publication of a photograph of the woman in a Boston paper led to identification by Mrs. Ruth's sisters, Catharine and Nora Woodford, of South Boston.

Ruth arrived in Boston yesterday and issued a short statement saying: "My wife's death is a great shock to me. He has since remained in seclusion. Friends declared he was grief-stricken."

Dr. P. Woodford and William J. Woodford, brothers of Mrs. Ruth, said earlier today that they were not satisfied with the police investigation of the circumstances attending their sister's death and demanded a thorough investigation.

PROBERS MAY CALL MRS. WILLEBRANDT

Congressman Bell Anxious To Hear From Assistant Attorney General on Snook Incident.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, January 14.—(Special)—Preparatory to rendering a final report, members of the special congressional committee which made an investigation of federal penal institutions during the summer, indicated today that Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, may be called upon to undergo questioning regarding the alleged planting of federal service men in the world war veterans in an effort to "bushwhack" Warden John P. Snook.

As a member of the special committee, Representative Thomas M. Bell, of Georgia, said today that he would urge that Mrs. Willebrandt be summoned. Other members of the body are declared to be of the same mind and it would not be surprising to see the whole Snook incident given a complete airing in a public hearing.

The committee, consisting of five members of the lower house, conducted hearings in Atlanta during the summer shortly after the revelation of federal service men in the world war veterans in an effort to "bushwhack" Warden John P. Snook.

While the committee gained much information in the Atlanta investigation, individual members feel that it would be desirable to have the department of justice, through Mrs. Willebrandt, make a complete investigation of the Snook case.

Judge To Bar Mail Ballots In Club Fight

Two Decatur Attorneys Are Named as Court Managers for Election.

Details of the new election of a president for the Atlanta Woman's club, to be held January 23, were given to members of the club at the regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon when Mrs. R. I. Reed, secretary and acting president, read the order signed by Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court. The order names Robert Ramspeck and Hugh Burgess, Decatur attorneys, as the court's managers for the election.

Asked by the Constitution Monday whether members of the club who are out of town on the election day would be allowed to cast their ballots by mail, Judge Humphries answered that he knew of no provision in the rules which would permit of a vote by mail. Nominations will be made from the floor on the morning of election day and polls will open immediately after the nomination meeting.

Under the order signed by Judge Humphries, Mrs. Reed is to issue the call for the election, and it is to furnish the court with a list of members in good standing who are qualified to vote. Two managers will be chosen by each side, to serve with the two appointed by the court. The drawing of the ballots will be done by the members in a private place to be supplied by the club, and solicitation of votes at the polls is prohibited.

A lecture by Pierre S. Poroshovskov on the subject of Russia before the revolution featured Monday's program of the club. Mr. Poroshovskov told of conditions in Russia before the advent of the soviet republic, and gave an interesting account of the manner in which the peasant class lived.

Resolutions deploring the death of Mrs. Adel G. Helmer were adopted. Mrs. Helmer was a charter member of the club. Her husband, who died in 1927, was a prominent business man. Resolutions were also read by Mrs. John K. Otley, also a charter member.

SENATE GETS FENN BILL TO REALLOT SEATS IN HOUSE

Washington, January 14.—(AP)—The house bill proposing reapportionment of the house membership on the basis of the 1930 census was ordered favorably reported to the senate today by the senate commerce committee. Suggestions were advanced for hearings before the committee on the bill but a majority decided it was best to get the measure immediately before the senate in view of the congested condition of the calendar. Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, will report the bill to the senate and lead the fight there for its adoption. The vote on the report was 9 to 5.

THE RECORD-BREAKING NEW NASH "400"

More can't be said for the New NASH "400" than this—

Just look at the outstanding features
NASH offers that other cars don't....

All as regular equipment at no extra cost

Twin-Ignition Motor

Far more power and speed with greater economy of gasoline than possible with single ignition. At every speed this new Nash Twin-Ignition motor delivers wonderful performance. Instant, alert get-away and surpassing smoothness through the full range of power and speed.

Bljor Centralized Chassis Lubrication

Press a pedal and 21 points, including all spring shackles, are oiled automatically and instantly under 100 pounds pressure. Saves both your time and money. One of the greatest features of convenience and economy ever presented to motorists.

Houdaille Shock Absorbers

These Houdailles are especially engineered by Nash to the new "400" with outboard mounting, new to the industry and exclusive to Nash. They are double-acting—softening the action of the springs both when they are depressed and on the rebound and giving you fullest riding ease.

Front and Rear Bumpers

These are the finest bumpers built, exceptionally beautiful and strong. They are integrally designed by Nash to harmonize perfectly with the new "400" Salon body design. As regular equipment at no extra cost, they contribute to the remarkably low Nash price, delivered, in this city.

World's Easiest Driver Control

We challenge the world on this new "400" feature. Nowhere is there another car so marvelously easy to steer and turn and park, or with such effortless clutch action as the new Nash "400". Nash is far ahead of the industry in ease of driver control.

7-Bearing Crankshaft

This is the world's finest practice—expensive but worth it—because of finer performance than is possible with fewer bearings. Each connecting rod is given maximum support by big bearings on both sides. This is the modern type of engineering.

Refreshing Comfort

The deep, soft cushions, form-fitted to the body, the wide seats, the roominess of the Nash "400" interior, all help to bring you to the end of every ride refreshed beyond anything in your whole motor car experience. On the longest trip you rest as you ride.

Costly Car Interior Finish

Costly upholstery and luxurious craftsmanship distinguish the new Nash "400" interiors at once from competitive cars. You can see the difference the instant you open the door. Nash "400" interior finish is matched only by the very highest-priced cars.

10,000 ATTEND AUTO SHOW, OPENING DAY

even describing a graceful and of re-splendent color and snappy line on the specially-built balconies, the cream of modern motordom was represented in the most magnificent and elaborate exposition Atlanta and the south have ever known.

They were like jewels in a satin case—these masters of the high roads—for the entire Auditorium is draped in a soft blue and gold that serves as a perfect foil for the more vivid colors of the various exhibits.

And as for exhibits, they're all there. Just pick your car and look for it in a maze of mechanical splendor the like of which you've never seen before. You'll find it—if something equally beautiful with wire wheels and chromium radiator shell doesn't lure you away.

Feature Exhibits Here.

Opening just on the heels of the big New York Auto show, the Atlanta exposition has received and is displaying a large number of the feature exhibits of its eastern predecessor. You'll see special chassis with the inner cogs and wheels displayed to view and the whole affair looking for all the world like it's made of pure gold.

Here a special wheel and lever apparatus that illustrates the working of a new type shock absorber draws a crowd, and there a new kind of windshield wiper attracts attention.

Everywhere are women definitely decided on this or that model, and promptly changing their minds as the next beauty in line comes to view. Even the kids were down debating the superiority of closed cars over sport models Monday night.

It's a wonderful show—automotive and accessory sections alike. The man who sees it and fails to make a vow that he'll trade in his old bus for a swanky new speedster has no more soul than a hot dog. Fact is, that's why they hold the show every year.

Atlanta may put on a drive for orphans one week and stage a clean-up and paint-up campaign the next, but this most emphatically is "auto-mobile week." You'll hear "straight eights" and "slices" discussed on the street car; the office will depart from its routine to argue on the desirability of this or that body design, and even at home there'll be no rest from the automotive craze.

The auto show will be open all this week—you'll be a mechanical nut yourself before Saturday night.

The ticket-selling contest, which has been in full swing for the past three weeks, is gaining momentum and after final reports had been made Monday night, the leaders found themselves hard pushed to keep their standings.

Miss Lula Bates took third place and Mrs. Jessie May Bell dropped back to fourth. These young ladies are representatives of various firms in Atlanta which named them as sponsors. Their names and standing are as follows:

List of Contestants.

The contestants are as follows:

The plane from Chicago, overtake by darkness, was forced to spend the night at the Chattanooga airport.

AVIATION.

A new model Fairchild cabin monoplane, powered by a 450-horsepower Pratt & Whitney "Wasp" engine and one of the trimmest ships of its type ever seen at Candler field, was a brief visitor Monday at the local airport, stopping over for about an hour on a hop from New York to Mexico City. The plane has been leased by Fairchild Aerial Surveys, of New York city, to Mexican Aircraft corporation, of Mexico City, a subsidiary of the United States Fairchild company, for photographic work in oil explorations and will remain in the arid southern country for about four months.

AVIATION.

The well-modeled plane provided for pilot and six passengers, with a convertible section which would enable more baggage to be carried, reducing the number of passengers to four. The ship was piloted here by George Kraigher, Serbian and French pilot during the world war, who was accompanied by Sydney Bonnick, photographer, who was in the British, Canadian and American air services during the conflict. The ship left New York Sunday on its southern journey, negotiating the 450 miles to Greensboro, N. C.—in the face of what Kraigher said was the stiffest wind he ever saw—in seven hours. Monday morning, the 310-mile jump from Greensboro to Atlanta was accomplished in the fast time of two and 45 minutes. The big ship hopped at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, with New Orleans its next port of call.

Better Than Whiskey
For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk 60c for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night—(adv.)

Gabriel Shock Absorber Exhibited at Auto Show

An interesting feature of the South-eastern Automobile show is the booth of the Eaton Bumper & Spring Service company, where for the first time outside of last week's New York automobile show, the new Gabriel Triple Hydraulic shock absorbers are being exhibited. The Eaton company is Georgia and Carolina distributor for the new product.

The booth contains an interesting mechanical illustration of the action of the new shock absorbers, manufactured by the veteran makers of Gabriel snubbers. It is located in the necessary division of the show, to the left of the main auditorium as one enters the gate.

George W. Klier, manager of the Eaton Bumper & Spring Service company, located at 18-24 Hunnicutt Place, just off Spring street, is in charge of the exhibit. L. W. Klein, of the Gabriel Snubber Manufacturing company, of Cleveland, Ohio, is here from the factory to attend the show. He announced Monday that all visitors to the Gabriel booth are welcome, and that questions will be answered and full information supplied.

TRIO WHO KILLED FIVE PUT TO DEATH IN CHAIR

Triple Execution Sequel to Series of Crimes at Bellefonte, Pa.

Bellefonte, Pa., January 14.—(AP)—Three men whose crimes brought death to five persons paid with their lives in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary today. They were Charles F. Mellor and Benjamin Demarowski, of Philadelphia, and Tony Lucetti, of Washington county.

All three met their death calmly. The triple execution began with Lucetti, who was convicted with Roy Wenrich of shooting Policemen Louis O. Knapp and Paul B. Fox in February, 1928, when caught in the act of running cargoes of moonshine liquor into the coal mining camps of Washington county. Wenrich turned state's evidence and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mellor, the next to go to the death chamber, shot and killed Max T. Harrison, assistant manager of the Cross Keys theater, Philadelphia.

Demarowski, 32, shot and killed his wife, Catherine, 42, on the evening of April 18, 1928. Captured a month later in Detroit, Demarowski declared that his wife had shot herself during a quarrel over another man.

Funeral services for Mrs. W. E. Close, of W. E. Close, of Philadelphia, a native resident of Atlanta until two years ago, who died Sunday afternoon at a private hospital, will be conducted at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the West End Presbyterian church. Rev. E. L. Flanagan and Rev. M. A. Cooper will officiate. Burial will be in West View.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bowden, of 578 Ashby street, Mrs. Close lived in Atlanta all her life until about two years ago when she removed to Philadelphia. She and her husband were visiting Mrs. Close's parents here at the time of her death. Besides her parents and husband, Mrs. Close leaves a daughter, Catherine, Barclay & Brand, funeral directors, are in charge.

Value of the DeFor tract, condemned by the city for the new Junior school site on Bankhead avenue, adjoining Maddox Park, is being put up to a jury in Judge John D. Humphries division of Fulton superior court. Hearing of the case began Monday and is expected to last several days.

The case reached superior court on an appeal by C. L. DeFor, owner of the property, from the decision of a board of arbitration which set the value at $18,000. DeFor, claiming that it is worth $40,000. City Attorney James L. Mayson and Assistant City Attorney Courtland S. He wired me, "Metcalfe, if you will pay me spot cash you can have 'em for one-half price," and what I'm talkin' 'bout (white folks) they are fine hand-tailored spring suits, too.

I want to go up there next week with the jack in my hand, and they ain't no tellin' how cheap I can buy 'em when I show him the "dead men's pictures."

That ain't all either. I know a guy in Baltimore that's got a thousand spring suits (cancelled orders) left on his hands. He wired me, "Metcalfe, if you will pay me spot cash you can have 'em for one-half price," and what I'm talkin' 'bout (white folks) they are fine hand-tailored spring suits, too.

I want to go up there next week with the jack in my hand, and they ain't no tellin' how cheap I can buy 'em when I show him the "dead men's pictures."

Mail orders filled, 23 cents extra. Return the suit to me after five days if you don't like it and I will refund your $7.77. Step on it. Come early and get your pick.

Yours truly,
JOHN A. METCALFE (Owner).

FLORIDA'S RESOURCES BOOSTED BY GIBBONS

Reaction of State Is Shown by International Lawyer.

Development of the productive resources of Florida to an extent that has overshadowed its greatest forces of attraction heretofore is an aspect of the state's growth that assures it of one of the foremost positions as a factor in the fundamental progress of the nation.

This opinion of the outcome of Florida's reaction to conditions confronted in the past, was offered by Colonel Cromwell Gibbons, one of the south's outstanding civic and political leaders and international lawyer of note, when he stopped over in Atlanta Monday, on return trip to his home in Jacksonville, Fla.

"The productive movement in Florida is not a new development," Colonel Gibbons stated. "It has always been the underlying foundation of the fertile state and its native inhabitants, but previously other aspects occupied the focus of attention," he explained. "Productivity in this neighboring state of Georgia has come into its own now, and never have conditions been more satisfactory or indicative of continued sound growth."

The international lawyer, who served as a colonel in the first regiment of Florida during the world war, was formerly speaker of the Florida legislature, staunch democratic supporter and national committeeman for the state, cited the varied agricultural development of the state, industrial growth, particularly of canning factories, big-scale refrigeration and other productive factors as the essence of Florida today. The "tourist crop,"

he said, is bigger than ever, but that is not the side of the state's prosperity that makes its future so promising and its condition today so sound. Colonel Gibbons declared, adding that Florida must be thought of as a producer on its own behalf and not as "living off of the other fellow."

500 NEW MEMBERS FOR CITY CHAMBER IS GOAL FOR 1929

Outline of plans for the coming year and establishment of a goal of 500 new members during the current year featured the meeting Monday of the membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce which was presided over by Mark C. Pope, chairman of the committee for 1929. It was reported that over 400 new members were added during 1928 and that the total membership today is the largest in the history of the chamber, approximately 3,000.

HINES URGES BROADER FOREIGN COTTON TRADE

Concentration by Ending of Cut-Price Competition Advocated.

New York, January 14.—(AP)—Development of the foreign market through greater concentration under the Webb-Pomerene act or through ordinary processes of joint representation today was recommended to the cotton textile industry by President Walker D. Hines, of the Cotton Textile Institute.

Announcing results of a special study just completed under his direction, Mr. Hines suggested that such concentration would strengthen the American export trade in cotton goods by eliminating unnecessary cut-price competition among American exporters, promoting more comprehensive research and planning, utilizing the restricted personnel which has necessary training and experience, eliminating unnecessary cost and attracting the best type of banking accommodation.

He said the Webb-Pomerene act afforded a wide choice of means of combining, even to the extent of eliminating price and other competition in the export business. He warned, however, that nothing could substitute for such essentials to success in foreign trade as efficient organization, specially trained and experienced personnel and facilities for studying and adequately serving selected markets.

"Combination without necessary business background, experience and training can promise nothing but disappointment," he said. "In fact, one of the leading reasons for greater combination is to get the maximum use of the too restricted amount of export talent and experience now available. Our study indicates we are well situated as to bank facilities and that our most experienced export interests, whose credit problems are of the most trustworthy character, have little if any complaint that other countries have any substantial advantages in this respect."

"TORNADO" WINNER OVER "CRIMSON" IN CLASS CONTEST

Another Golden Tornado has come through triumphant over a new Crimson Tide—this time to win by 100 points.

The "conflict" has been raging during the past eight weeks. The playing field was all Atlanta and touchdowns were scored each Sunday in the men's Bible class of the Second Baptist church. The class divided into two membership teams last November and the losing side was to bite the dust by giving a dinner to the victors. The Golden Tornado won by a lead of 100 points.

The Crimson will face the Golden champs next Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. The dinner is to be served in the dining hall of the Second Baptist church. A victory program has been arranged and all members are invited. Dr. M. L. Brittain and Dr. Q. G. Singleton, teachers of the class, and J. T. Killebrew, president, will preside.

U. S. GOOD ROADS BODY WILL OPEN MEETING APRIL 29

Selection of the official date for the seventeenth annual convention of the United States Good Roads association, held jointly with the United States Good Roads show and the Bankhead Highway association, have been announced for the five days beginning April 29, according to a dispatch received here Monday from J. A. Rountree, of Birmingham. The convention meets this year in Memphis, Tenn.

Date of the convention was set by former Governor W. W. Brandon, president of the United States Good Roads association, and Mr. Rountree, director general.

Active work of arranging the program, extending invitations to state and national leaders, governors, senators, congressmen, highway commissioners, engineers and other persons interested in the good roads movement, is now under way, Mr. Rountree stated.

The 1929 convention promises to be one of the most successful in history of the organization, several hundred delegates from all sections of the country being expected to attend and many prominent men and women having already accepted invitations, the Birmingham dispatch asserts.

BEWARE of Coughs that Follow FLU

They Weaken Your System and May Lead to Serious Trouble

You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and acts as a gentle laxative.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, attacks the seat of the trouble and helps check the growth of the germs.

In addition to creosote, Creomulsion contains cascara, wild cherry, syrup of white pine with tar, menthol, ipecac and licorice root, the combined effect of which is to dislodge and loosen up the phlegm, produce a cooling, soothing, healing effect on the inflamed mucous membranes and act as a gentle laxative. Creomulsion contains no narcotics, nor anything harmful. It can be safely given to children—they like its pleasant taste.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from flu and colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion may help you avoid flu, but is not sold as a flu remedy. If you have fever, or think you may have the flu, see your doctor immediately.

A hard, racking cough from flu keeps the system weak and run down—making it easy to have a relapse, or catch colds or develop something more serious. By relieving the cough, Creomulsion helps the system regain its strength. Its use should be continued several days after securing relief so as to get the most benefit possible.

THE AUTOMOBILE SHOW.
The automobile show at the auditorium is one of the most interesting and entertaining exhibitions of the kind staged in this country. It compares favorably with the widely acclaimed New York automobile show, which is an annual feature that attracts thousands from all over the country.

The latest models of all of the cars on the market are on exhibition, and the demonstrations of the evolution of motor vehicles is an engaging study.

The United States manufactures more motor vehicles than all of the other nations combined. The people of this country are users of these vehicles to a pro rata extent several times greater than the people of any other nation.

The automobile industry as a unit is the largest, in invested capital and in employment of labor, in this country, and the continuous efforts of engineers, designers and builders to make improvements each year have brought about a high condition of perfection.

All of the latest improvements, not merely in completed, ready-to-drive cars, but in the various units that enter into them, and in all of the accessories, constitute an exposition of engineering and mechanical genius and thrift and progress that is as enlightening as it is engaging.

The Atlanta automobile show is colorful and beautiful. There are many entertainment features. One could spend several hours in the auditorium and enjoy every moment, as well as reap the benefits of genuinely educational demonstrations.

Hundreds of visitors, from other sections of Georgia, and from other states, will visit this exhibit during the week.

In the meantime the people of Atlanta should show enthusiastic cooperation.

WHO MADE IT "PARTISAN"?
The statement accredited to Representative Cramton, dry republican leader of Michigan, that Senator Harris is actuated by partisan motives in seeking to increase the congressional appropriation for prohibition enforcement by $25,000,000 is absurd.

The position of the republican leaders, including the announced opposition to the Harris amendment by the secretary of the treasury, is inconsistent with the pledges made in the recent national campaign when the republican party studiously sought to capitalize the "dry" vote, even to the extent of inciting insurrection in the Democratic ranks.

It is obvious that the republican party deliberately made the prohibition issue a political vehicle in the campaign with no serious intention to change the present deplorable situation.

Some of the outstanding circumstances since the presidential election are illuminating in this connection. First, the director of federal prohibition made the flat statement that it would require a $300,000,000 annual appropriation to enforce prohibition.

This was immediately followed by the appropriation committee of the house making the item $13,500,000, or less than 5 per cent of the amount authoritatively stated, as necessary.

In the senate, when the republicans were caught "off guard" Senator Bruce, democrat, rushed through an amendment making the item $240,000,000.

Mr. Hoover might get a few ideas of building a cabinet from the French.

Mr. Babson, in his economic review says that rubber is as strong at 20 cents as at $1.24 in 1916. Yes, we knew it was elastic.

to remedy the existing evil, attempted a compromise to $50,000,000. The Georgian is a member of the senate appropriation committee.

When the senate voted down the Harris motion to not agree to the conference report on the treasury department bill, which report restored the $13,500,000 voted by the house, every democratic senator except two voted for the Harris motion, and every republican senator except three voted against it.

Therefore, who made it a partisan question? The republicans!

Senator Harris thereupon later sought to increase the appropriation by $25,000,000, the compromise having been agreed upon after a conference with Senator Jones, republican dry leader. The amendment is pending, but with the republican leaders fighting it, the chance of passage is remote.

The unvarnished truth is, under the existing contradictory and summary laws, and methods of "enforcement," no amount of money the government could appropriate, whether $13,000,000 or $300,000,000 would remedy the farce, or curtail the rising tide of "moonshine" and "home brew," which enforcement officials give but indifferent concern. But the point is, while the republicans professed great political concern during the campaign to "dry up the country," when the test now comes for enforcement funds they show a complete and ignoble backdown, to the secretary of the treasury pleading, as an excuse for even the $25,000,000 addition to the item that the Georgia senator proposes.

So the farce will continue, with the sanction and acquiescence of the so-called "dry" party.

FOR RURAL "COMMUNITIES."
The meeting in Atlanta of the southern states associated committees on reclamation, of which Hugh McRae, of Wilmington, is chairman, is of the greatest importance in looking to betterment of rural life, and to governmental aid in establishing farmers on ready-to-go farms.

This committee was appointed three years ago by Secretary of Interior Work, and its functions therefore are by federal direction.

The word "reclamation" is not used in the sense of bringing into use unusable lands, but to the contrary, it is meant in this connection to bring usable lands into active use, and to colonize them along scientifically prepared programs, with federal assistance.

The committee has already selected several large tracts in the south for this purpose, one of which is in southwest Georgia in the vicinity of Albany.

If the original plans, as contemplated by Secretary Work, can be worked out to definite objectives through congressional cooperation, it would be one of the most advanced steps for rural betterment in the public mind today. It was proposed by the secretary of the interior that the original experiments should be confined to the south where climatic, soil and labor conditions are peculiarly inviting for the making of farming productive.

The proposal contemplates bringing homesteaders from the less favored sections of the bleak north-west, and for schedules of economically balanced production.

This government has spent billions of dollars in the reclamation of western lands by great drainage and irrigation projects.

In this respect it has ignored the south, although the conditions in the south are different, there being no arid lands, and but few large areas, with the exception of the Florida Everglades, needing extensive drainage engineering.

It was seen, therefore, that "reclamation" could be nationally broadened by utilizing good southern farm lands for the building of ideal community centers, to be populated by those of other sections who seek relief from the long winters, low temperatures, and the abnormal fuel and feed expenses. And thus the movement was conceived, with one of the ablest farm experts and business men of the south, Mr. McRae, at the head of the commission.

The plans should be pushed to a complete realization of the purposes that inspired them. It is one direct way of making "farm relief" practical. It will not solve the farm problem, but if congress will cooperate in the commission's efforts it will result in immeasurable benefits to the south, and to thousands of colonists from other sections.

The republicans over the United States are attending the electoral college, although the rah-rahs are of the past.

We are thankful that the manufacturers made toy drums so fragile that they only last a week or so.

Mr. Hoover might get a few ideas of building a cabinet from the French.

Mr. Babson, in his economic review says that rubber is as strong at 20 cents as at $1.24 in 1916. Yes, we knew it was elastic.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

"Divine Caesar."
At the closing session of the Italian chamber Signor Paolo Orano introduced the new decree on the fascist grand council. In the course of his address the honorable Orano delivered himself of the following pious peroration: "All responsibility, conferred by Providence upon man, now falls directly upon the shoulders of that creator of princes and principles of reality and of royalty, I have named Benito Mussolini." The Roman president said there was long and lively applause following these words. Some French papers imagine that fascists enthusiasts are preparing the way to have the "Divine Caesar" formerly belonging to the Roman emperors, restored and offered to Signor Mussolini. Probably the fascists are not so stupid as to speak of the ultra-fascist "Mussolini" has a bearing on this. There are still too many people who boast to have gone to school with Mussolini, or to have shared a meal with him, or to have offered him a cigar in some railway compartment. There are still too many people, who in speaking of the Duce, call him simply Benito. There are far too many who assert to be in terms of intimacy with him. It is high time to declare before all the world that Benito does not exist any more. Today Mussolini must be known as the Duce and only as the Duce. Nobody has the right to speak of him in an ordinary manner that one refers to common human beings. He is above all. Even his title is not to be taken in vain. It should only be pronounced with awe and reverence.

Touching the French Heart.
No love was lost between Hollanders and Frenchmen during the war. Holland was generally regarded as out and out pro-German, in spite of the fact that two million Belgian refugees found a hospitable asylum in that country. The bitterness continued long after the war. Much of the vulgar xenophobic outbreaks on the boulevards two years ago was directed against Dutchmen. But now things have changed. These Carnations are full of praise for the Hollanders. They are a sympathetic people, full of feeling, tact, courtesy, culture and gentleness. What the reason of this face-about? Mlle. Jane Bourguignon has been to Amsterdam. Mlle. Bourguignon is a singer and a French opera. She had been invited to the Concertgebouw, where she filled the title role in "Carmen." On the following day she was taken to see the sights of the Dutch capital. This included a visit to a famous diamond factory. As she walked through the rooms, some workmen recognized her. One of the men ran to him snatches from her. Soon everybody joined in the singing. The entire factory had taken up the refrain. Mlle. Bourguignon smiled. She was a most adorable smile. It should be added. When the Dutchmen saw it, the factory workers suddenly changed their tune to that of the Paris opera. These Carnations say the French papers. Who told us they were placid and insensible. What feeling, what fine tact. "Is your heart touched?" (They have touched our hearts).

conducted through examinations of Harsh. Dr. Owensby also has studied the defendant minutely.

No Difficulty Seen.
Though two extra jury panels have been drawn, neither the prosecution nor the defense expects to have any great difficulty in singling twelve men and women out of the 250 to hear the Harsh evidence.

The case has been given wide-spread publicity, but I do not expect to have any trouble finding a jury to hear it. Solicitor General Boykin said he would not be surprised if we obtained the jury in a couple of hours.

Defense counsel, including William Schuler Howard, James A. French, Ben Conyers and Walter T. Colquitt, likewise expected little trouble in filling the jury box.

"Any fair-minded prospective juror will be acceptable to us," Mr. Howard said. "Our defense will be solid. One juror will be the same as another to us."

The 250 men and women summoned for services on the Harsh jury include persons from every walk of life. Lawyers, businessmen, workmen, housewives and all, Mr. Boykin said.

Cross-Section of City.
"The jury we will obtain doubtless will be a cross-section of all Atlanta," the prosecutor said.

As the hour for Harsh's trial neared, it was reported that Fulton county Sheriff James I. Lowry had ordered the guard over Harsh doubled for the period of the trial. This move was said to be as well as to guard him, it was said.

"When a noted prisoner goes on trial there is always that crowd which wants to get a glimpse of him," said the sheriff. "It is to keep back the curious as well as to guard the prisoner, that we are increasing the number of men over him."

Harsh Prepared.
Harsh was reported as having expressed himself ready to face the jury. In jail since late in October, the accused is reported to be almost broken in health, but that his physical condition is good enough to warrant trial today. Harsh was treated Sunday for a nerve disorder by Dr. M. C. Hardin at his offices in the Grand theater building and since that time is reported to be less nervous.

"Harsh appears to be eager for trial," a jailer said Monday. "He seems to want it over with as quickly as possible."

Solicitor General Boykin plans to put the Smith case to trial first he has notified all the witnesses in both cases to appear at the trial in the courtroom at 9 o'clock this morning. In the event that the case takes an unexpected turn and he is forced to put the Meeks case to trial, he is expected to do so without delay.

Solicitor Boykin said.

"The state is ready for trial in Smith case," Mr. Boykin said. "The state case undoubtedly will be the one taken up, but we are ready with the Meeks case, too. Every angle of our case has been gone over and there will not be a hitch in the state's presentation of either."

Mrs. Smith Here.
Mrs. William Smith, widow of the slain contractor, arrived in Atlanta Monday from her home in Chattanooga. The Smiths had been married only three weeks when Smith was shot down in defense of the cash register in the store at 302 Boulevard N. E. where he was employed. Mrs. Smith was in consultation with

Sweden and Norway Ties Seen Firmer in Betrothal Of Prince Olaf to Martha

No Date Set for Wedding of Heir Apparent to Swedish Throne and Norwegian Princess.

Stockholm, Sweden, January 14.—Crown Prince Olaf of Norway, whose engagement to Princess Martha of Sweden was announced today, arrived in Stockholm soon afterward most informally and unheralded and walked straight to the residence of his future parents-in-law, Prince Charles and Princess Ingeborg.

The announcement came as a surprise to the people of Sweden and Norway, particularly since rumors of an engagement several weeks ago had been denied. The date of the wedding has not yet been set.

Princess Martha, who is not quite 28, is a typical modern princess, and like her sisters is well educated, is trained as a nurse, has passed all kinds of examinations in household economy, is able to make her own gowns and is a good chum with all her former school fellows. Her eldest sister, Princess Margaretha, married Prince Axel of Denmark in 1915. Her younger sister, Princess Astrid, is married to Crown Prince Leopold of Belgium. Her mother is a sister of King Haakon of Norway. The couple consequently are cousins.

Prince Olaf is well known in Sweden. He participated last summer in the international gold cup regatta at Sandhamn, winning several prizes.

The young prince, who will be 26 next July, was born at Sandringham, England, and was educated at Oxford college, where he was known for his athletic ability and love of sports. He is the only child of King Haakon and is a nephew of King George.

News of the engagement is looked upon as a future proof of the improved relations between Sweden and Norway since the breaking of the union in 1905.

BELOW-ZERO WEATHER HITS NORTHERN STATES

Chicago, January 14.—(P)—All that had gone before was as nothing compared to the bitter cold that held middle and northwest America in a sub-zero hug over the week-end.

No relief of consequence is in sight before Wednesday, and the weather bureau was not prepared to say if the cold would be dissipated even then. One of the low thermometer readings of the week-end was at Duluth, where a minus 34 was the coldest the Minnesota city at the head of Lake Superior has had in 11 years. Green Bay, Wis., was another frigid spot with 20 below, while temperatures throughout the midwest with hardly an exception skated under the cipher mark yesterday and last night.

Chicago had an official 10 below, with some suburban thermometers showing as low as minus 11. There were three deaths directly attributable to cold, and there were several hospital cases of persons suffering from frozen hands, feet or faces or persons injured in falls on slippery sidewalks and pavements.

Cary, Ill., was believed to have been the coldest spot in the state Sunday when the temperature hit 22 below during a ski meet. At Pana the snow and unusual cold brought out sleighs for the first time in a quarter of a century.

Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas all experienced the severe cold. Snow blanketed railroads, disrupting schedules, and many highways were blocked.

Temporary relief last today—about 20 above, the weather man said—was expected to be followed by new cold, borne across the midwest by winds from Alaska and accompanied by snow.

LOW TEMPERATURES IN THE EAST.

New York, January 14.—(P)—The mercury fell to new low marks for the winter in the eastern part of the country today.

A sharp drop in temperature, accompanied by snow, brought sub-zero weather to many points in New York state, while in western Pennsylvania thermometer readings were close to the zero mark.

Story creek had the lowest temperature in New York state with 12 below zero. At Ogdensburg, where it was 11 below here, the St. Lawrence river froze over for the first time this winter.

A light snowfall ushered the cold wave into New York city. There was extreme cold weather throughout Ontario, with 44 degrees below zero at White River, a record for the province. Temperatures at other points ranged from 33 degrees below to 21 below. At Sault Ste. Marie the St. Mary's river was frozen over.

ONE BELOW ZERO IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Ohio, January 14.—(P)—The mercury dropped one degree below zero here today, and was the warmest states suffered frozen feet from exposure and insufficient clothing. KING AMANULLAH QUILTS IN FAVOR OF BROTHER

London, January 14.—(P)—British official advice today confirmed reports from Peshawar that King Amanullah of Afghanistan has abdicated.

Peshawar, India, January 14.—(P)—It is strongly rumored on the frontier that King Amanullah has abdicated in favor of his elder brother, Prince Inayatullah, and has left Kabul by airplane for Kandahar. The exact situation in Afghanistan for the past week has been somewhat obscure. Recent dispatches have indicated that fighting between the king's forces and the rebels had somewhat died down although there were reports of sporadic clashes.

Dispatches from New Delhi last week told of the publication in an Afghan newspaper of a proclamation supposed to have been signed by Amanullah in which he rescinded most of his recently promulgated regulations for the westernization of his country. During the heavy fighting around Kabul last month, before the rebels were driven off, there was a rumor that Amanullah had abdicated, but this later proved untrue.

Amanullah Khan is the third son of Amir Habibullah Khan. He was born in 1892 and succeeded to the throne on the assassination of his father in February, 1919. Inayatullah is four years older than Amanullah, having been born October 20, 1888.

SUPERINTENDENT SCOTTTDALE MILL ENDORSES SARGON

A. B. Baker Says New Medicine Brought About a Wonderful Improvement in His General Physical Condition.

Lifted from a state of low vitality to a condition of buoyant energy is the pleasant experience of Mr. A. B. Baker, of Scottdale, Ga., with the use of Sargon. Mr. Baker is a man of education and refinement and holds the responsible position of Superintendent of the Georgia Duck and Cordage Mill, at that place. Read what he says about the relief he has found by the use of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills:

"I suffered from a constant state of constipation and frequently had pains in my side and abdomen. My general condition was run down and I had little energy for my work. When I first began to take Sargon, I weighed only 140 pounds, and this is thin for a man of my height. I have taken only two bottles of Sargon up to the present time, but my weight has increased eight pounds and I feel full of energy and new life."

Mr. Baker is a dignified gentleman, a member of the church, and a well-to-do citizen of the community. He made the above statement in his office at the Georgia Duck and Cordage Mill, and was in a most cheerful and talkative frame of mind. Continuing his statement, he said:

"I am glad to recommend Sargon treatment because of the wonderful improvement it has caused in my general condition, and because I firmly believe it has removed the cause of a trouble I have had practically all my life—that of chronic constipation. I used Sargon Soft Mass Pills with the Sargon and recommend them because in a case as severe as mine was it is better to assist the Sargon at first by giving the additional help that Sargon Soft Mass Pills are designed to do, and an aid more than ever and now weigh one hundred and forty-eight pounds—or eight pounds more than when I started the Sargon treatment."

The above statement, made by a man of Mr. Baker's character and standing in his community, is proof of the good results that the Sargon treatment is bringing to people all over the country.

The success of Sargon is easily explained. Its effect is almost immediate. Right from the first dose people who are suffering from lowered vitality begin to feel its stimulating, invigorating effects. Thousands of half-sick, rundown people, many of them on the verge of a physical breakdown, report that it seems to pick them right up and put them on their feet.

It is not only a powerful reconstructive tonic, which imparts tone and strength to the entire system, but it is a constitutional treatment as well and exerts a tremendous influence upon the processes of digestion, assimilation and elimination.

No higher tribute could be paid to Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills than that which comes in simple language and full sincerity, from the testimony of the grateful thousands, like Mr. Baker, who have put this revolutionary treatment to the test.

Why Sargon accomplishes such amazing results is being explained by the Sargon representative at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta St., where hundreds are calling daily to learn more of the powers of the medicine. Sargon may also be obtained at the other Jacobs' Stores all over Atlanta.—(Adv.)

Rail President New Chairman; Mrs. J. P. Billups

Charles A. Wickersham, president of the Atlanta and West Point railroad, was elected chairman of the city planning commission at a meeting held Monday afternoon in Mayor I. N. Ragdale's reception room. Mrs. J. P. Billups was selected as vice chairman.

The commission voted to permit the following changes in zoning: 451 Moreland avenue from an apartment house to business; east side of Highland avenue from Ponce de Leon to Green street from a dwelling house to business; and the north side of Ponce de Leon avenue from Highland to Moreland avenue from business to dwelling house.

The following proposals were not acted upon because of technicalities of the law which had not been complied with: To change the east side of Moreland avenue, between Fair street and Arkwright place and extending easterly to Mortimer street, from a dwelling house district to a business district.

Resolution by Councilman Ellis B. Barrett to change the northwest corner of Vine street and Jones avenue from a dwelling house district to a business district.

Twenty-four of the 25 Atlanta citizens appointed by Mayor Ragdale to the citizens' commission appointed to study methods of promoting efficiency and economy in the city government have been notified and have accepted, leaving only one unheeded from Mayor I. N. Ragdale said Monday.

The mayor said he would announce the time of meeting for organization probably this week as soon as he hears from Joseph H. Hirsch, president of the Empire Printing and Box company, the last one who has not signified whether he would serve on the commission, the mayor said.

It is explained that the object of the commission is to study the present city government and suggest such changes as make the operation more efficient without changing the government fundamentally.

MACON CORONER TO PROBE DEATH OF CIRCUS MAN

Macon, Ga., January 14.—(P)—To investigate the death of Jimmy Ralph, who died supposedly from drinking poisoned liquor Sunday night, Coroner Martin Thompson has called an inquest tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock when the analysis of the contents of Ralph's stomach will be announced as evidence.

Eddie Tuple, of Detroit, and Louis Sherrett, of Plymouth, who were the other two victims of the supposed poison, were dismissed from the Macon hospital today and returned to the park, where the trio was employed by Sparks' circus.

After it was revealed by Will Lockett, negro, who was held by police as a possible source of the liquor, that Ralph had fallen about six feet from an upper bunk and since that time had not spoken or moved, it was thought no sible that the fall had caused or at least induced death. Until he fell, Lockett stated, Ralph was "talking and carrying on like a drunk mope."

"Waxy" Edwards, to whose liquor Tuple attributed the misfortune, satisfied officers that what they had drunk was harmless. "I've been a drinkin' it all day," he said. Examination of what was left in his jug showed the stuff to be plain corn whiskey.

Pending the inquest, police were prepared to make no further announcements.

I. C. C. Discriminates Against New Orleans, City Interests Charge

New Orleans, January 14.—(P)—Serious discrimination against New Orleans in favor of Texas points and unreasonable rates to the southwest territory from other sections were charged here today in a hearing before Examiner Bardwell of the interstate commerce commission, upon application of New Orleans interests for a reopening of the southwestern rate case.

Detailed statements were presented at the hearing by Edgar Moulton, assistant manager of the New Orleans Joint Traffic bureau, tending to show that the general level of the group rates out of New Orleans to 524 cities, towns and junction points in the states of Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma is materially higher than mileage rates would be to the same points.

S. CARNES' FATHER PASSES AT AGE OF 83

News of Death Received as Son's Shortage Is Fixed by Board at $909,000.

As Clinton S. Carnes, defaulting treasurer of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist convention, received news of the death of his 83-year-old father, Samuel Carnes, at his home in Vienna, Ga., Monday, Dr.
Luther Rice Christie, president of the mission board, announced that a formal report on the audit of Carnes' accounts fixed his alleged peculations at $909,000.

R. E. Bentley, a public accountant, Monday began his audit of the books for the defense, under a court order signed by Superior Judge Virlyn B. Moore, before whom Carnes will face trial February 12 on 20 indictments charging embezzlement.

The elder Carnes, a veteran of the war between the states, died following an attack of pneumonia. Samuel and Robert Carnes, sons of the jailed ex-treasurer of the mission board, were with their grandfather at the time of his death. Mrs. Clinton Carnes reached Vienna late Monday afternoon.

Carnes Not to Attend.
No effort will be made to obtain permission for Carnes to attend the funeral of his father, at 11 o'clock
Wednesday, at the family home in Vienna. At the Fulton tower, where Carnes is being held, awaiting trial, it was said the prisoner preferred not to visit his former home under guard and probably in manacles, not desiring to further embarrass other members of his family.

The announcement of Dr. Christie drew from the imprisoned Carnes a statement which said:
"If I had been given an opportunity to examine the books of the home mission board along with the auditors who have been working on them for several months I could have saved them a lot of work and could have cleared up many things that they have spent months in trying to puzzle out."

Dr. Christie said a final report of the audit, which was begun last September shortly after Carnes disappeared, would not be made until all phases of the examination of the treasurer's books have been covered and sufficient time has elapsed for all banks to make claims for payment of loans alleged to have been made by Carnes in the board's name.

It was such unauthorized loans that were shown in the audit to have formed the bulk of Carnes' alleged peculations, Dr. Christie announced, adding that among other items in the purported shortage was $250,000 in cash and securities missing from the church building loan department fund.
Although the tentative report disclosed that the alleged embezzlements began in 1923, Dr. Christie said indications were found that they were carried on in a small way soon after Carnes was made treasurer of the board in 1919.

20 Indictments Returned.
More than a score of indictments already have been returned against the former prominent layman and business man, involving a total sum of about $450,000 alleged to have been embezzled. Officials of the solicitor-general's office have said they expected to seek other true bills covering the full amount of the alleged shortage.

Meanwhile, counsel for Carnes have begun an independent audit of the board's financial records under the authority of a court ruling.
"There are a great many matters about which the auditors could not possibly get complete information without my assistance," Carnes said today. "The books of the home board fail to show several transactions that are perfectly legitimate and unless certain circumstances and records are available, would hopelessly mystify any auditor. I know about them, of course, but without my assistance the auditors could audit from now on and never get them straightened out."

Court Order Secured.
"I understand that a court order has been secured permitting me to go over the books with my attorneys and know that we will be able to clear up a lot of items that the auditors have designated as part of the alleged shortage."

"One of the results of this whole situation that has caused me much distress is the treatment accorded Dr.
D. B. Gray, executive secretary of the board for 25 years. It looks to me as though an effort was made to unload the responsibility for the board's financial situation on his shoulders. As a matter of fact Dr. Gray had nothing to do with the board's finances, which were in my control by express authority of the board. He is in no way responsible for anything that has happened and his removal from the secretaryship has created a false impression in the public mind."

GOVERNOR, MAYOR
TO ATTEND DINNER OF FREIGHT BUREAU

Several hundred members of the Atlanta Freight Bureau and invited guests have accepted invitations to attend the twenty-seventh annual

Practically every line of trade and industry in Atlanta and vicinity will be represented at the meeting. Honor man, Mayor Ransdell, the entire membership of council and the aldermanic board, federal, state, county

tives, civic leaders, editors and publishers.

livered by A. J. Maxwell, chairman of the North Carolina Corporation commission. He is one of the outstanding authorities of the country on freight rates.

Another interesting address will be made by Edgar Watkins, general counsel of the bureau, his talk involving rate cases now in litigation.
Bolling H. Jones, chairman of the board of the Fulton National bank and a leader in the bureau's activities since its foundation, will deal with the revision of commodity traffic.

MAN WHO ROBBED
TWO TAXI DRIVERS
GETS 4 TO 6 YEARS

Robbery of two taxi drivers brought Robert W. Dodson a term of from four to six years in the state prison Monday when he pleaded guilty before Judge Virlyn B. Moore in Fulton superior court. Judge Moore gave Dodson a four to six-year sentence for robbing J. R. Melton of a small sum of cash and a taxicab on December 17, and a similar sentence on a charge of taking a cab and some cash from Clarence Selden on December 18, the second term to run concurrently with the first. Dodson told Judge Moore that he was ill and needed the money to buy medicine.

Robert McGee, negro, drew a four to six-year term on each of two counts of burglary, the two sentences to run concurrently, when he pleaded guilty in Judge E. D. Thos' division of Fulton superior court. McGee was charged with robbing the office of the T. A. Hinson Co. company and with breaking into the store of S. Zimmerman.

stores, Monday afternoon told an audience at the formal opening of the annual Georgia art exhibit sponsored by the Davison-Paxon company.

In introducing the first gallery speaker to appear in connection with the showing of the work of native artists, Mr. Kline pointed out that appreciation of art is leading Americans as never before to demand not only that their pictures and sculpture be beautiful, but that their clothes, their cars and their homes be in good taste.

"Culture and love of art follow on the heels of prosperity," he stated.
"America is the world's most prosperous nation, and it is a fact that this country is witnessing the greatest wave of art appreciation it has ever known."

Mr. Kline introduced to the audience George M. Napier, attorney general of Georgia, who spoke on "The Effect of Art in Our Everyday Life."
The speaker paid high tribute to the Davison-Paxon company for lending its support to the annual Georgia art exhibit, and stated that the interest displayed in the event by exhibitors and the public generally "proved the fact that Georgia is deeply appreciative of the work of art."

The second annual Georgia art exposition staged on the sixth floor of the Davison-Paxon company is not only more comprehensive in its scope, but it also includes work of a much higher standard than that of 1928, according to Mrs. Miriam D. Crew, its director. Exhibits include over 300 works of Georgia artists, including exhibits from the most prominent-known craftsmen of the state, she stated.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the opening of the exhibit Monday, and Mr. Kline predicted that last year's total attendance of 14,000 would be considerably exceeded this year.

J. J. Haverly, patron of arts, will deliver a gallery talk on "Art in America" at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and R. J. McKinney, secretary of the High Museum of Art, will speak on "Famous Paintings," January 22. The latter lecture will be illustrated. The exhibit will remain open through January 24.

NOMINATION OF TATE TO BE WITHDRAWN

Opposition to Confirmation Causes Him To Make Request.

Washington, January 14.—(AP)—The nomination of H. Theodore Tate to be treasurer of the United States will be withdrawn by the treasury department because of opposition which developed in congress to Tate.

"Mr. Tate's nomination will be withdrawn because he could not be confirmed and because he requested the secretary of the treasury to take that action," Under-secretary Mills said.

"There is nothing to reflect on his integrity in any way. The treasury's office has been well run while he has held the position."

Opposition to Tate's confirmation started last spring when the president submitted his name to the senate to succeed Frank White as treasurer.

Most of it came from Representative Wood, of Indiana. Wood insisted that Tate, who had been assistant treasurer, should have received the appointment because of his seniority.

Tate, who also was assistant treasurer before his appointment, issued a statement earlier saying that because of vigorous opposition to the confirmation of his nomination by Wood he had requested Secretary Mellon last week to recall the nomination to avoid embarrassment to the department.

Tate, who came into government service from Tennessee 20 years ago, could be appointed to a government position under the civil service law.

At the time of his appointment the law provided for two assistant treasurers, which position is held by Thiel, an ex-Tate. The 1929 budget, however, provides for only one assistant treasurer which position is held by Thiel.

COOLIDGE PRAISES COMMUNITY CHEST
FOR BENEVOLENCES

Washington, January 14.—(AP)—Relief from excessive expenses sustained by charitable organizations in seeking funds has been pointed out by President Coolidge as one advantage of the Community Chest method of gathering contributions, in a letter to officials of the local organization.

Approving the Community Chest plan as "the best which has been devised" to provide for local benevolences, the president added:

"By eliminating much of the cost of collection it increases the amount actually available for charitable purposes and makes for a wider and more equitable division of funds in assistance with the needs and opportunities of the community."

There is a real danger that the fine objects of each may be obscured by the problems of maintenance and the true spirit of benevolence chilled by an endless succession of pressing demands.

PENNSY PLANS AIRPORT

Philadelphia, January 14.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad, one of the most active participants in the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., which next spring is to begin an air-rail service from coast to coast, today announced that it would soon start building at the Columbus, Ohio, municipal airport, a rail-air transfer station.

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules
Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of great importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his recommendation for constipation known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic purges and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their systems. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Syrup Pepsin.

Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person.

Get a bottle today, at any drug store and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.—(adv.)

FARM CIVILIZATION

In the house of representatives in December, 1927, had been successfully opposed because of misinterpretation of the measure and that every effort would be made to rearrange it to eliminate opposition from this source in the belief that the measure would pass on its merits. The bill is entitled an act "To authorize the creation of organized rural communities to demonstrate methods of reclamation and benefits planned rural development," and Mr. McRae cited several instances of persons opposing the bill and later changing their position after becoming familiar with the real purpose.

Approaching Farm Problems.

The afternoon session of the conference was devoted to discussions of important avenues of approach to the solutions of the existing farm problems in the belief that a thorough research of the situation would bring about an answer. Many members of the state committees present, some of whom are outstanding farm experts, gave their views as to the most practical methods of getting the desired results of rebuilding a satisfactory rural life. Much thought was given to the details of a program to be worked out by committees and submitted to the conference this morning.

George C. Kreutzer, representing Dr. Elwood Mead, of the reclamation bureau of the department of the interior, declared that the realization of the organized community project marked the "quickest way for prosperity in the south." "It is a plan to put the south on a sound economic basis where it can feed itself," he stated. It was pointed out that similar ideas already had been successfully worked in a number of foreign countries, including New Zealand, Germany, Holland, Australia and others.

Quotes Dr. Branson.

He quoted Dr. E. C. Branson, professor of rural economics at the University of North Carolina, who has devoted much time and study to the problem of farm life in the south, and the meeting approved his summary of the situation as a guide that could be safely followed in the general program. A committee was appointed to wire President-elect Hoover asking that the association be given an early hearing on the matter and it was predicted that the question would have a successful termination under his administration.

A finance committee was appointed to work out plans whereby each state concerned could make the necessary arrangements to participate in the financial program of the association. Dr. W. H. Mills, a committee member to review the Crisp-McKellar bill to eliminate words or features that might prove barriers to further progress in helping the farmers of the south. L. J. Folse, chairman of the Mississippi delegation, was made chairman of the publicity committee.

The conference adjourned at 6:30 o'clock Monday night and will convene again at 9 o'clock this morning to hear and discuss the findings of the various committees.

HIGH TIDE AS TUG FAILS TO MOVE IT

Coast guardsmen at the Stuart station, 40 miles north of West Palm Beach, declared that combined efforts of the Warbler and the Yamacraw failed to budge the tanker an inch today.

The Trinidadian, of the Gulf Refining Company's line, sailed from Jacksonville last Wednesday after discharging a cargo of oil. She was bound to Port Arthur.

WATCH COLLECTION, VALUED AT $100,000, GOES TO MUSEUM

Washington, January 14.—(AP)—One of the largest collections of fine watches ever made by an individual is to be brought to Washington this week as a permanent contribution toward advancement of the art and science of timekeeping.

Reflecting the interest of a mechanical genius in fine mechanics and his recognition of the importance of accurate measurements of time in modern era affairs, the collection was made during the last 25 years of his life by James Ward Packard, famous as a motive engineer and inventor. Consisting of about 30 watches, representing an outlay estimated at $100,000, the collection was left at death last March to the Cleveland Museum of Art which, with Packard and trustees of the estate, will turn it over tomorrow at Cleveland to the Horological Institute of America for permanent preservation and use.

The watches, ranging in value from $500 to more than $8,000, will be placed temporarily in the old national museum of the Smithsonian institution.

"Light a Lucky and you'll never miss sweets that make you fat"

Instead of eating between meals . . . instead of fattening sweets . . . beautiful women keep youthful slenderness these days by smoking Luckies. The smartest and loveliest women of the modern stage take this means of keeping slender . . . when others nibble fattening sweets, they light a Lucky!

Lucky Strike is a delightful blend of the world's finest tobaccos. These tobaccos are toasted—a costly extra process which develops and improves the flavor. That's why Luckies are a delightful alternative for fattening sweets. That's why there's real health in Lucky Strike. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

For years this has been no secret to those men who keep fit and trim. They know that Luckies steady their nerves and do not harm their physical condition. They know that Lucky Strike is the favorite cigarette of many prominent athletes, who must keep in good shape. They respect the opinions of 20,679 physicians who maintain that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

POSTOFFICE CLERK GIVEN 5 MONTHS FOR MAIL THEFTS

J. Robert Thompson, of Decatur, a clerk in the Atlanta postoffice, pleaded guilty to theft from the mails before Judge Sibley's United States court Monday and was sentenced to serve five months in the Fulton county jail.

It was stated that in a signed confession, Thompson had admitted the theft of three letters from which he obtained $11.64 and that he had been guilty of this practice for some time, destroying the evidence in each case. He had previously signed an agreement to plead guilty February 15 but his trial was set up to Monday in order to allow his attorney, William Schley Howard, to be on hand, it was said.

Thompson, it was stated, had made restitution for all his thefts, but Judge Sibley ruled that this could not save him from a sentence.

Catarrh Is Most Common Cause of Colds and Flu

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, flu, pneumonia, etc.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Runion, known to your druggist as Runion's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. Clean, greaseless and absolutely stainless, White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh.

8 years Growth

While Atlanta's families have increased only 43% the number of accounts at the Fourth National has grown more than 2 1/2 times this figure.

Increasingly --- a vital factor in the life of ATLANTA

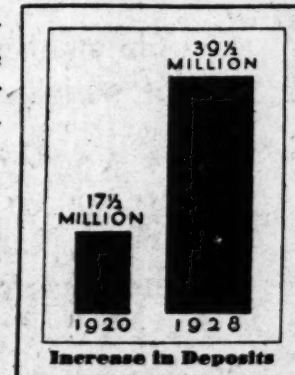

A BANK is successful as it earns the confidence of its community. The ratio between population and the number of a bank's customers is the gauge of this confidence. Hence it is illuminating to compare the growth of the Fourth National with the growth of Atlanta since 1920—the last census date.

The number of families in Atlanta has increased 43% in those eight years. The commercial accounts of the Fourth National have increased 104% in number during the same period, while the number of savings accounts has grown 144%.

In other words, to the citizens of Atlanta this bank is today more than two and one-half times as important as it was eight years ago.

Atlanta families, business houses and others have on deposit in this bank thirty-nine and one-half millions of dollars. In 1920 the total was seventeen and one-half million dollars. Thus we come to the same conclusion from another angle; Atlanta's confidence in this bank may be measured by that great increase, too.

What is there about the Fourth National Bank that inspires such growth? Getting down to fundamentals, how has this bank won the sincere confidence evidenced by these figures?

Perhaps the answer lies here: This bank has always been constructively conservative. We have insisted upon the most careful analysis of every business transaction with which we have dealt since our beginnings. We have built up an organization with an understanding of business and its ramifications—and the public has learned to recognize us as a source of sound business and financial counsel.

Thus commercial accounts have come to us, because business men found us a valuable partner. And savings accounts have followed in their wake.

Naturally, other departments of this complete banking service have grown proportionately. The Trust Department is going forward rapidly. Its record has shown a noteworthy increase in the number of wills naming this bank as Executor. The safe deposit vaults are now patronized by thousands of customers who find our locations unusually convenient and central. There are safe deposit vaults at Five Points, and in the West End and Decatur Branches.

We find ourselves, then, at the beginning of a new year, enjoying a high place in the esteem of our fellow-citizens. And we pledge ourselves for the years ahead to do everything that lies in our power to maintain and foster the confidence you have reposed in us.

RESOURCES MORE THAN FORTY MILLION DOLLARS

$200,000 INVOLVED IN DOWNTOWN SALES

Three Valuable Pieces of Central Property Change Hands.

Three real estate transactions, constituting the biggest property activity that has been witnessed in the triangular area bounded by Spring, Cain and Williams streets, in many months were disclosed Monday. While none of the parcels contained improvements, the aggregate consideration involved in the sales was well in excess of $200,000.

The deals, which were negotiated independently, resulted in change of ownership in the northeast corner of Spring and Williams, the southwest corner of Cain and Williams and the northeast corner of Cain and Williams.

New Record Likely.
In addition to marking the most notable property development on Williams street in the downtown section, since start of the Rhodes-Haverty skyscraper at the corner of Peachtree and Williams, formerly known as James street, it added to the total figure approaching a real estate record for the opening month of the new year. For two of the corners passing into hands of new owners it is thought that important construction developments are contemplated.

E. G. Beaudry, well-known automobile dealer, purchased the southwest corner of Cain and Williams streets from the Massell Realty company. The deal, which involved a consideration of $200,000, was negotiated by Thomas Bouchier, of the Keenan & Chambers agency. Although Mr. Beaudry could not be reached Monday night for confirmation, it is generally understood that he plans to erect a large automobile agency building on the site, which has a frontage of 104 feet on Cain street and 130 feet on Williams. Mr. Beaudry gave as part consideration his home on 1162 St. Augustine place.

The largest of the three sales announced Monday involved the northwest corner of Spring and Williams, formerly James, purchased from the estate of R. J. Griffith by Lorenz Neuhoff, head of the White Provision company. The transaction was handled by John O. and W. L. Dupree as agents. The vacant lot measures 101 by 149 feet and the consideration, which was all cash, was understood to be approximately $125,000.

Development Seen.
When queried Monday night on his plans for development of the corner, Mr. Neuhoff stated that though he

INFLUENZA MAY BE BARDED OFF BY FOLLOWING THIS GOOD ADVICE

Get plenty of sleep in a well-ventilated room. Eat regularly, sparingly, of wholesome food. Exercise each day in the open air. Walk to work if possible. Avoid crowds, and keep away from all who evidently are suffering from colds. Treat a cold promptly at the start. It is better to stay in bed for a day or two than to take a chance with a cold.

These and similar bits of common-sense advice have been given out by health officials in almost every section where influenza is severe. The public in general is becoming educated to take proper precautionary measures. The prevention is easier than the cure.

Now, with the germs of colds, grippe and influenza almost everywhere, many are finding Vapex of the utmost value. It is the most modern way of combating the always-with-us cold evil. Vapex is pleasant to use. Put a drop on your handkerchief. Breathe the invigorating vapor. Do this often during the day and your head stays clear. Vapex will stop a cold at the start. Your druggist has it for $1.00—in the little square bottle and the package with the green triangle. Fifty applications in every bottle.—(adv.)

had no definite project in mind at this time, he believed the value of the land called for a substantial development in the near future, considering large office building as the most likely undertaking.

In the third property transaction on Williams street, the Massell Realty company sold the northeast corner of Cain and Williams to John Malone and George L. Word. The lot has a frontage of 60 feet on Cain and 80 feet on Williams. The deal was negotiated by the Adams-Cates agency. It is understood that Malone and Word bought the parcel as an investment, the adjoining property on Cain street also being owned by them, and forming with the last purchase a large corner site.

TWO JURORS PICKED TO TRY HOTEL MAN ON MURDER COUNT

Nashville, Tenn., January 14.—(P)—Only two jurors had been chosen when adjournment of the first criminal court this afternoon halted the trial of Walter Liggett for the murder of Turkey Cunningham, manager of a leading local hotel, who was fatally shot in the back yard of his home the night of October 29, 1928. During the examination of 17 men of the jury panel of 33 the state exhausted only two of its legally allotted challenges, while the defense used four of the 15 allowed. The other eight men examined were disqualified because they had formed opinions on the case from reading newspapers.

The jurors chosen were J. B. Luster and R. J. Pully, both farmers. Attorneys believe that completion of the jury will not be reached before Wednesday.

Mrs. Era Cunningham, widow of the slain man, did not enter the courtroom where Liggett sat, seemingly unconcerned in the deliberations. It was

CHRYSLER

Style and Beauty Leadership

No Accidental Creation

FOR THE FIRST TIME
in Motor Cars—A Deliberate Design Using the Centuries-Old Canons of True Charm and Loveliness.

Chrysler's unerring success in developing, year after year, beauty and style which lead the motor car industry, may be credited to the very individual and definite plan which animates Chrysler design.

To achieve its unique beauty, Chrysler trusted no accidental inspiration of individual designers.

Instead it went directly to those sources of art and architecture which have come down the centuries unsurpassed and unchallenged.

These were studied, and examined, in the patient pursuit of authentic beauty. They were reduced to exact formulae of line and outline.

Then came the characteristically daring Chrysler step.

These canons of ancient classic art were carefully translated into terms of motor car beauty and utility. They were applied to the most modern vehicle that travels the earth.

The results were hailed as masterpieces of dynamic symmetry—an expression as new to the industry as the Chryslers themselves. The accompanying illustrations make clear the origins of some of the details of the very latest Chrysler style—the style that re-styles all motor cars.

They show very definitely the workings of a plan, the like of which can be found nowhere else in the industry.

It is everywhere conceded that Chrysler style and beauty are today more striking than ever. The deliberate and conscious plan which gave them birth assured then and there the greater grace, charm and artistry in Chrysler cars.

THE most modern thing in motor car design—Chrysler's matching of slender-profile radiator with cowl-bar moulding—has its artistic origin in the repetition of motif in the historic frieze of the ancient Parthenon.

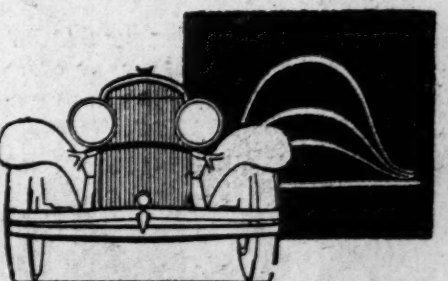

NOTE how the dynamic symmetry of Chrysler fender contours and wheels expresses the very essence of life and motion, just as do their counterparts in the "wave border" of the classic masterpieces of architecture and design.

IT may seem a far cry from the correct lines of an old Roman aqueduct to the "arched-window" silhouette of the Chrysler of today. Here it is, however—a plain indication of the artistry with which Chrysler lines are developed.

THE Chrysler front elevation indicates the influence of the Egyptian lotus leaf pattern. Modified to its modern application, it is perfectly proportioned, and applied with consummate artistry in blending beauty and utility.

ARTISTS know this as a "rising, diminishing series." The level road, the slightly arched bumper, the shorter arched tie-rod above, and finally the shorter and more deeply arched radiator contour, form a series in perfect harmony.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

THE KINDLY DEED.

By Thornton W. Burgess.
Through trouble only you may find Just who is thoughtful, who is kind.
—Reddy Fox.

Reddy Fox limped slowly home. There would be no hunting that night for Reddy. He had been careless and he had lost a toe in a dreadful steel trap. Of course, it had pained him a great deal at first, but the cold had brought a blessed numbness and, as he limped along, his foot did not pain him so much. But he couldn't run on that foot and so there could be no hunting that night. Poor Reddy! He felt nearly starved as he went. What should he do? He would just have to grin and bear it, that was all.

Now, as he approached home, he met Mrs. Reddy just starting out. Of course, she saw that something was the matter and right away Reddy told her what had happened. He warned her that there might be other traps and she must watch out.

"Good luck, my dear, good luck in the hunting," said Reddy, as he crept into the house, hungry and miserable.

Mrs. Reddy hurried away. She had started out to hunt for herself, but now she intended to hunt for Reddy, too. "Poor Reddy!" she thought. "It would be hard enough to have a thing happen at any time, but to have it happen now when we are half starved is really dreadful. I simply must get something for him tonight."

It was the next day when Farmer Brown's boy took it into his head to go up in the Old Pasture. It was the first time he had been up there since the winter. Now, the trapper had already visited his trap and found Reddy's toe in it. He knew that it would be useless to reset that trap right there, so he had taken it up and reset it at another point. In doing so he had left tracks in the snow. Of course, Farmer Brown's boy discovered those tracks. "I wonder who's been up here," thought he, "and what for?"

He followed the tracks. So he came to the place where the trap had first been set. He saw the disturbance in the snow. He saw some drops of blood on the snow. Looking around carefully, he saw Reddy's tracks approaching that place and then leaping there. He saw right away that Reddy had been using only three feet when he left and he discovered little spots of blood on the snow.

"Reddy was caught, but he got away," thought Farmer Brown's boy, and turned to follow the man's tracks to where he had reset the trap. He soon found the trap, sprung it and took it up. He was angry clear through, was Farmer Brown's boy. Then he turned and went back to follow Reddy's tracks to the door of his home. He saw that Reddy had gone in.

"That Fox must be half starved," thought Farmer Brown's boy. "He could have had nothing to eat through the storm and now that he has a hurt foot he has little chance to get any."

thing to eat. I'd like to go straight over to that trapper's and tell him what I think of him. But I guess the first thing to do is to go back home and get some food for Reddy."

Back home went Farmer Brown's boy and presently he returned with meat and bones with meat still on them and half of the dinner that had been cooked for Bowser, the hound. All this he put down in front of Reddy's doorway and then hurried away that Reddy might not be delayed in satisfying his hunger. It was a kindly deed—one of the deeds that make Farmer Brown's boy beloved by all the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows.

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh you and help your body throw off worn-out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

Lose Weight Where You Most Want To

Fayro reduces weight generally, but you can also concentrate its effect on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate

Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds. And a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath, you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. PAPACY IS GRANTED LEADERS AWAIT REPLY
TERRITORY EXPANSION OF BOOTH ON QUITTING

Countermove by Aged Leader of Salvation Army Is Expected

London, January 14.—(P)—Definite action on the continuance in office of General Bramwell Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, probably will come tomorrow. Leaders of both factions of the organization agreed on this point after it had become known that the general's reply to the suggestion of the high council that he retire had been delivered late today at Sunbury-on-Thames.

Both sides said they were completely in the dark as to whether the aged leader would make a conterminous against retirement when the high council assembles. The reform element said, however, that if he declined to retire, the council would proceed at once to vote on his physical fitness to continue his duties.

They predicted that the ballot, if the case came to that, would be overwhelmingly in favor of a new head of the army and reform in its basic organization.

"If General Booth should say that He cannot retire because such action would be illegal, he would contradict the policy of the association, and the leaders of the American delegation to the Associated Press. "In the letter which he sent to the council last week he said this:

"And I been asked to resign, it would be a very different matter and I should not, on my own account, have much regretted the request."

Colonel Cunningham, new head of the intelligence department at international headquarters, denied allegations that the council had not acted on strictly constitutional lines.

"The council has proceeded under powers conferred upon them by the Booth himself," he said.

The Baffle Stories

The Mystery of the Murdered Physician

NUMBER 12

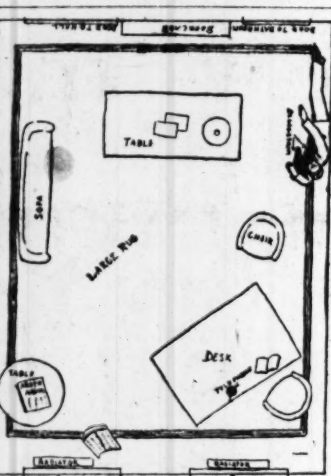

Was Dr. Brett's murderer a man or a woman? Even this much the Arden police never determined. But Inspector Marquard, of Scotland Yard, on his recent visit here, revived interest in this braided, unsolved mystery by his statement that the sex of the murderer was conclusively indicated by evidence available from the very first. What is your opinion? Dr. Winthrop Brett, of Arden, it will be recalled, was among the first of American physicians to journey to Vienna for tutelage when the fame of Freud began spreading through knowing medical circles early in the century. By 1920 the Arden psychoanalyst had fairly skimmed the cream of the wealthy, select patronage in his region, and had amassed a fortune so large that cynical ones whispered talk of blackmail as an adjunct to his specialty. Among the newspapermen of Arden, the physician's now famous "little green books" had been a by-word to city editors, at least, his murder was not the most unexpected of things. It was common gossip among them that there were a half dozen men or women who might have had sufficient motive to commit the crime.

The first notice of the murder of Dr. Brett came from the physician's valet, who telephoned the police at 6:05 p. m. in the greatest excitement. It was on November 22, a chilly day. He said that he had just returned from an afternoon off and had found his employer shot dead in the private study of his bachelor apartment. The police, who were called to the scene, found the victim lying on the floor, his head against the wall, his arms outstretched. A bullet had entered the abdomen; the other, the right lung. The lung wound had caused a hemorrhage. A great crimson stain of blood covered the entire front of the physician's double-breasted coat from collar to waist and extended to the heavy grayish-blue rug on the floor. Medical examination later revealed that he must have been dead for more than an hour. It was observed that although the pockets of the physician's clothes had been rummaged, his gold watch and $72 in small bills were untouched. His keys, however, were missing and were never found.

The wall safe, 5 feet from the floor, below which the physician's body was found had been opened—undoubtedly with keys removed from the dead man's pocket, for it had not been forced. Examination revealed that a small black steel box had been removed and replaced. From this black steel box the small green leather-covered books had been taken, according to the deductions of the police. It was within these books that Dr. Brett kept many of his private case records, and it was presumed (and never has been disproved) that they rested within the steel box as usual on the day of the murder. The alibi of Wilkins, the valet, from 2:30 that afternoon until he telephoned the police, was easily established by the detectives and cannot be questioned. In fact, it should be said that no justifiable suspicion of Wilkins, either as a principal or as an accomplice in the crime, has ever been established by any evidence, and it may be assumed that Wilkins told everything that he knew.

The detailed examination of Wilkins brought out the interesting fact that the physician had made an appointment for 3 o'clock that afternoon with a person who had telephoned at about 1 o'clock. Wilkins' testimony follows: "The doctor didn't go to his office downtown on Tuesday, so he was home here this morning. He went out for lunch at 12 and returned just before 1 o'clock. I was in the private study putting some books in the closet for him when his private telephone rang. That is the one on his desk. It is not connected with the apartment switchboard. "He was sitting at the desk and he answered it himself. He didn't greet anyone; he wasn't surprised or angry. He was very nervous, and, as I never noticed what he said except when he called me and said: "Wilkins, you may have the afternoon off until 6." "The doctor sometimes said that to me suddenly, and I was always glad to go whenever the opportunity came. He was still looking at the phone when he said that to me. Yes, I am quite sure he resumed conversation on the phone after saying that to me, for when I came out of the closet later,

I remember him laying down the phone. Then he said: "You can go at 2:30, Wilkins. I have an appointment for 3 and I shall be dressing for dinner at 8. You may stay away until six." "So I left him then and didn't get back until after 6 o'clock. I always followed orders with Dr. Brett. He often had confidential appointments with lots of people, you understand, and I always followed orders exactly." "The detectives proceeded with a minute examination of the private study, but they found no fingerprints. The highly polished surface of the black steel box, the wall safe door, and the doctor's black wallet—all these, which must have been examined and touched by the murderer—had been wiped clean of fingerprints, as if with a wet cloth. "A damp towel was found over the handle of the door leading into the bathroom adjoining. It was also noted that the cold water in the bathroom wash basin was still running (about one quarter on). Wilkins testified that it was thus when he first inspected the apartment at 6:05. In this he was corroborated by the negro elevator operator of the apartment building, who had answered Wilkins' startled cry for help upon discovering the tragedy. "But what most attracted the attention of the police was the position of the doctor's body as it lay, back against the wall, on the floor below the wall safe. It was apparent that the murderer would have been compelled to reach over the body to open the wall safe. On the desk lay a novel—as if the physician had been reading when his visitor entered. "On the floor near one of the radiators of the room, a single sheet of newspaper was found—the back page of that morning's Arden Argus. The remainder of the paper lay on a table near by. The detectives noted that part of the single sheet of newspaper was shriveled, as though it had been previously wet. The shriveled portion ran down the middle of the paper almost from top to bottom, for a little more than a column's width. When questioned, Wilkins, the valet, was certain that the Argus was complete and unbroken on the table when he left at 2:30.

Scrutinious examination of the physician's apartment yielded no further clues. Nothing of importance was gleaned from the morning apartment, from the elevator operator, or from the apartment switchboard operator. No one remembered either a man or a woman calling at the Brett apartment—either going or coming—at any time during the afternoon. This was not extraordinary, however, for the apartment was on the ground floor and it was not necessary to pass the elevator operators or switchboard operator in order to ring the doctor's bell and gain entrance. No shot had been heard.

The net deductions of the Arden police were as follows; and since Inspector Marquard agrees they may be assumed correct.

1. The murderer came by appointment at 3 o'clock, stayed for an hour or more, and then shot the physician.

2. The murderer robbed the wall safe and erased the fingerprints without haste, apparently secure in the knowledge that the valet, Wilkins, would not return for some time and that disturbance from anyone else was a remote possibility.

3. The Arden police, at the time, held it impossible to do more than guess at the sex of the murderer. But Inspector Marquard says that evidence afforded by clues to the murderer's actions in the apartment after the shooting, proves conclusively the sex of the murderer.

What do you deduce? Don't guess; reason it out.

The questions to be answered are:

1. Was a man or a woman the murderer of Dr. Brett?

2. What conclusively proves the sex of the murderer?

THEATER REVIEWS

VIVACIOUS ACTING
OF ALICE WHITE
PLEASES MET FANS

Alice White, flashing Dixie Dugan of "Show Girl," is back at the Metropolitan this week. "Naughty Baby," in which she has the star role, is not as good as "Show Girl," but Alice counterbalances this with her vivacious acting. The show opens with Alice in a hot check room of a New York hotel. The usual millionaire, Jack Mulhall, is a guest at the hotel and, as the idle son of a wealthy Boston parent, is splurging himself in Gotham by running around with a couple of the usual gold diggers.

Alice wants to meet him and does so by means of the not unusual fake drowning stunt. By way of originality there is a house runaway scene to make the introduction more formal. And, of course, Alice poses as a rich girl and Jack forgets to mention he saw her in the hot check room.

BEBE AS BUDDING
JOURNALIST STARS
ON RIALTO SCREEN

"What a Night," a tale of a metropolitan newspaper in the cruel, bustling city and the subsequent rare success of said newspaper in making the typewriter key more potent than the land's blaring guns, is the entertaining opus offered currently at the Rialto theater.

Bebe Daniels, seen in the role of a blundering journalistic aspirant, who is given a place on the newspaper's reporter staff because her father is one of the largest and most glib of his advisors, in the dashing young lady who eventually stumbles into data necessary for a big underworld expose, after the paper's "star reporter," if there be such an animal, had failed, more or less ignominiously, to deliver. Or rather the "star reporter" had delivered to the extent that the paper was about to change ownership via the libel route, because his "big scoop" wouldn't stand up after an old, mean gangster had stolen the evidence needed to support the story.

But Bebe and a highly effeminate photographer (if you can imagine such a photographer) come unexpectedly to the rescue and substantiate the story sufficiently to fill a fleet of street sprinklers. Thus saving the "star reporter" from being discharged, and incidentally paving the way for a devilishly romantic marriage.

An address on "The Sex Life of a Polyp," by Robert Benchley, in a Movietone feature, and "The Northern Patrol," in a Vitaphone specialty, complete the bill.

Coming to Erlanger.

Walker Whiteside's forthcoming visit to Atlanta on Thursday, Friday and Saturday with matinee Saturday should prove of unusual interest to patrons of the Erlanger theater for the star is presenting an amusing comedy entitled, "The Royal Box," which is an adaptation of the play, "Kean," by the celebrated dramatist, Alexandre Dumas. Mr. Whiteside will be seen in the dashing character of James Clarence, a celebrated London actor, whose triumphs at the famous old Drury Lane theater are incorporated in the author's colorful and romantic theme. Clarence was the boon companion of the Prince of Wales at that time and historians said of Clarence that he had as many loves and more debts than his friend the prince.

Loew's Grand.

Loew's Grand theater opened for the first three days of the week with "State Street Sadie," starring Conrad Nagel and Myrna Loy playing the leading roles. The picture is full of thrilling scenes throughout with bank holdups, several exciting gun battles and other scenes of the underworld.

The attraction for the last three days of the week is "The Air Circus," with Sue Carroll, Louise Dresser, David Rollins and Arthur Lake.

Cameo.

A new setting, new situations and the ever-delightful effervescence of youth characterize the film, "Buck Privates," at the Cameo today. Lya De Putti and Malcolm McGregor are featured. McGregor portrays a buck private in the American army of occupation, and his co-star plays the role of a little German girl. The story concerns the adventures of the soldiers in a beautiful little German village nestled against the banks of the Rhine near Coblenz.

Alamo No. 2.

"Love's Greatest Mistake," featuring Evelyn Brent, William Powell, Josephine Dunn and James Hall, appears at Alamo Theater No. 2 today only. It is a delightful comedy of comedy here and there, to set off the seriousness of the story. Briefly it concerns the adventures of a young girl, who, loved with her small home town, comes to New York to seek excitement. She achieves a mental stability and a true valuation of life only after a series of harrowing episodes that nearly result in her losing the man she really loves. Direction is by Edward Sutherland.

Empire.

Dashing John Gilbert and charming Renee Adoree, that never-to-be-forgotten pair of stars of "The Big Parade," are co-starring again in "The Cosacks," showing for the last times today at the Empire theater, corner Georgia avenue and Crew street. One of the most delightful stories of all time is seen in "The Cosacks," which tells of the charming and amorous adventures of a Russian rough rider who, however, finally meets the one girl. A talented cast is seen in support of John Gilbert and Renee Adoree.

81 Theater.

"Radio Sam," a show that meets and satisfies America's national craving for the colorful songs of the negro, is scheduled Friday night of this week as the big attraction of the 81 Theater's regular performance for white patrons. The show has made a big hit all over the country, and Manager Tom Bailey, of the Decatur street playhouse, reports that seat sales for the local performance already are heavy. BIG BOB MURPHY
CONVULSES FANS
AT KEITH'S GEORGIA

Every now and then some comedy ace, like big Bob Murphy, at Keith's Georgia this week, comes along to prove to the variegated universe that while some comedians may be made, the chap who would aspire to such light, respectably, the audience to shatter the roof, mutilate the seats, chew up the upholstery, and otherwise demonstrate its approval, must be born that way.

And big Bob is. You couldn't get up an argument on that subject with any member of Monday's audiences. Lines? He's got 'em and new, too. Ad lib? He's old man Ready Speaker, himself. The beauty of it is that he tops a bill, every feature of which Monday afternoon proved to be a show-stopper.

Beginning firstly, mostly, there's a Francis and Wally, a comic cut-up and a cutie who amuse and delight, respectively. The gold medal of the Royal Society of Opening Turns should be presented to these two artists who did no less than put a serious crimp in the evening's schedule of the theater Monday afternoon.

Galla Rini, marvelous musician, and his sister, who, according to big Bob, is a very nice girl, and the old lady'll go any place!

Maree, a young lady who is forsaking vaudeville after the fashion of the Metropolitan Opera company, is, according to Virginia Senon, local last word in burlesque, for two big times at the Met. And that's just about right, too.

Wilma Banky, recently elevated to stardom, does right well in "The Awakening," —ELMO HAMBLY.

DOLORES DEL RIO
STARS AT HOWARD
IN RUSSIAN FILM

Characterized by a brilliant and haunting synchronized music score by Erno Rapee, of the Roxy theater, New York, "The Red Dance," current saga of the Russian revolution period, starring Dolores Del Rio, opened Monday for the week's run at the Howard theater.

Dolores portrays the role of a nobility-hating Russian peasant girl who rises to the position of premier danseuse of the Moscow theater.

She falls into the hands of the peasant radicals and easily becomes a tool of their machinations until she meets the grand duke, portrayed by Charles Farrell, with whom she falls in love and consequently she informs the city of this bomb-throwing business against the nobility is all off, as far as she's concerned.

However, complications set in, as complications will, and things finally work around to the climax which sees everybody happily to bed.

Both Miss Del Rio and Farrell give splendid performances in a way more than usual entertainment value.

Several Vitaphone and Movietone acts and Movietone news complete the bill.

VARIETY VAUDEVILLE
PROGRAM OFFERED
CAPITOL PATRONS

Variety—all of a light and frothy nature—is the keynote of Loew's Capitol stage bill this week. Backing it up is the personable, breezy William Haines in a screen characterization of O. Henry's story—"Alias Jimmy Valentine."

The vaudeville bill as a whole is good and the opening number, the middle one and the closing are exceptional. The opening act is the usual juggling affair but what that man Lawton doesn't do with three little red rubber balls is too difficult to try.

A clowning little Russian—his name is Saranoff—puts over the third act in great style with his Milt Gross line of chatter. The act is a revue in the w. k. tabernacle manner that without Saranoff would be only ordinary. In the closing number five cowboys, in costumes that would scare a horse to death, calling themselves "Five Harmanians" play pieces on the banjo, guitar, washboard, drum and saw that please the audience mightily. Barrett and Cuneen get over very well in a skit concerning the antics of a rustic octogenarian out for a bit of fun in the big city. Bernard and Henrie are two nice girls who sing a funny song about how the ice man is missed since his mechanical prototype has come into being.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" is one of the best pictures that has come to town in a long while, with Lionel Barrymore, Tully Marshall and Karl Dane forming a splendid supporting cast for young Mr. Haines. When the crisis is reached the picture becomes all "talkie." A Movietone newscast and Pathe short subject complete the program.

RIGHT TO SUSPEND
SENTENCE UPHELD
BY FEDERAL JUDGE

Shreveport, La., January 14.—(AP) The right of a federal judge to impose a "split sentence" or to suspend a portion of a sentence was sustained in federal court here today by Judge Ben C. Dawkins.

The decision was given in the case of Philip Reyon Reye, a British subject, who pleaded guilty here a year ago to violating the Mann act and was sentenced by Judge Dawkins to two years in jail, with one year's suspended sentence.

At the end of one year's sentence Judge Dawkins stated that he did not intend for Reye to serve two years at the time the "split sentence" was imposed.

The federal jurist stated that he did not agree with a recent decision by Judge Sibley, of Atlanta, who held that a judge did not have the right to suspend a portion of a sentence.

"The court has the right to suspend all of a sentence," Judge Dawkins said today.

SEEK TO INCREASE
IRON, STEEL SCHEDULE

Washington, January 14.—(AP)—The iron and steel industry, representing a capital investment of four and three-quarter billions of dollars and employing more than 1,500,000 men, today added its plea to those of smaller businesses for increased tariff protection.

Appearing on behalf of 95 per cent of the iron and steel producers, John A. Topping, vice president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, declared before the house ways and means committee that the industry had borne an annual additional cost of $24,000,000 under the existing law and that higher duties were needed to maintain present wages and to further stabilize the business.

While no rates were proposed by the industry in general, several witnesses representing companies which are members of the institute, requested that duties on pig iron, the basic product of the industry, be raised from $112 1-2 to $3 a ton. They contended imports were having a depressing effect on the domestic market.

In a brief Topping declared a complete new schedule of duties would be filed later as the industry had not had time to determine exact duties desired in the period elapsing since announcement of the hearings on the metals schedule.

The new schedules, however, he said, would provide for increased protection and would be based as far as practicable upon specific rates of duty.

Topping contended that high taxes, wages, and freight rates justified the proposal for higher steel duties and under cross-examination declared that although only one-tenth of one per cent of domestic consumption was imported this was sufficient to affect the entire price structure of the United States.

CHICAGO VICTOR
IN LAKE WATER
DIVERSION CASE

Washington, January 14.—(AP)—Chicago's diversion of water from Lake Michigan was held by the supreme court today to have been lawfully authorized by the secretary of war, but because the late levels had been lowered six inches Chief Justice Taft ruled that the withdrawals be reduced as rapidly as practicable.

The court announced that Charles E. Hughes, who as a special master heard testimony in the case, would be appointed to determine through experts just how rapidly the diversion could be safely decreased.

In Courts Ten Years.

In deciding the case, which has been in controversy for ten years and in which millions of words of testimony have been taken, the court acted without a dissenting opinion. It ruled that the permit granted the city by the secretary of war was valid because the methods used in the disposition of sewage made the diversion necessary in the interest of navigation in Chicago harbor and the lower end of Lake Michigan.

The present rate of withdrawal, it was held, could not be justified as an aid to navigation on the inland waterway from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, and diversion of water purely for sanitary purposes could not be authorized under the existing law.

Baffle Story Solution
The Mystery of the Murdered Physician.

1. The murderer of Dr. Winthrop Brett was a woman.

2. This was proved by the single sheet of newspaper found lying in front of the radiator. Inspector Marquard deduced that the long, narrow, shriveled mark on the page must have been made by the drying of a damp stocking. He reasoned that the murderer reached over the body to get the little green books from the wall safe; that in so doing her stocking came in contact with the large bloodstain on the breast of the doctor's coat. He knew that in 1926 skirts were worn very short and that stockings were usually light in color.

"Unable in any way to hide the damning stain on her stocking," Marquard writes, "and knowing that the valet would not return until six, she removed her stocking, washed out the stain, and went to put the stocking along the top of the radiator where it would dry quickly. Seeing a newspaper nearby, she tore off a page, laid it on top of the radiator—a very natural action. She would probably have had to wash almost the whole leg of the stocking, for silk stockings show very plainly any marks left by water."

"After the stocking had dried and she had removed it from the radiator, the piece of newspaper was wafted off the radiator by the hot air rising from it; or possibly she carelessly knocked it off when removing the stocking."

"The fact that she had left the cold water running also pointed to her having washed a bloodstain, for cold water is much preferable to hot water for removing bloodstains."

"It may be argued that a woman, under these circumstances, would scarcely have dared to run the risk of lingering in the apartment long enough to wash her stocking; but to appear on the street without having done so would be far more dangerous. She had no way whatever of hiding the conspicuous stain.

To wash and dry the stocking sufficiently to permit wearing it would take less than twenty minutes. Moreover, very soon after she had killed the physician she must have realized that her shots had not been heard, for no one came running. She probably had been intimate with Brett and probably knew that there would be no other appointments that afternoon but her own. For I cannot doubt that she was the person who telephoned at 1 p. m. and then overheard the doctor release Wilkins till 6 o'clock.

"It is also obvious that the murderer was in a mood for playing a desperate hand, for when she failed to force the physician (perhaps at the pistol point) to give her the books, she shot him and took them."

"As to her identity, of course, I know nothing; but it seems probable that she had been one of the doctor's patients, that she had at some time made indiscreet confessions to him, of a personal nature, which he had recorded and possibly used to obtain a hold on her. And that she finally rebelled is certain."

"I should imagine that the 'little green books' have been long since destroyed and that the lady's identity will never become known."

"The Torch Bearers" Is Riot, FUNNIEST SHOW IN YEARS, STEVENSON SAYS Birmingham Audience Finds

BY PAUL STEVENSON.
Birmingham, Ala., January 14.—(Special.)—Just as soon as the laughter that is sweeping over the Erlanger theater of Birmingham subsides enough for a person to call a telephone boy over the telephone, an attempt will be made to tell the people of Atlanta just how funny "The Torch Bearers" proved to be here tonight, when it was presented for the first time here by Charles L. Wagner's Producing company. People are in real convulsions of laughter as this is being written, and there is no doubt that George Kelly's is one of the funniest shows written in the last decade.

Annoying Itch Ends Quickly

One application of Sulfex Skin Lotion instantly stops any kind of itch or annoying irritation by penetrating the skin pores and killing all germ infection. Sulfex Skin Lotion is quick, pleasant and complete. Money back if it fails. 50c a bottle at drug stores (or by mail). Sulfex Laboratories, Inc., Box 60, Desk 2, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

Thomson, Margaret Wolfe, Frank Sylvester, Barbara Hastings and their associates it is a perfect show and this is written as fair warning to Atlanta people to get ready for the big fun treat of several years when this show is brought to the Erlanger theater next week.

Sensation Here Predicted.
No attempt will be made to review this show by wire. But it can be stated with certainty that "The Torch Bearers" will create a sensation in Atlanta just as it did in Birmingham Monday night and it is equally certain that it will establish the Wagner company on a permanent basis for the rest of the season. If it does not, then it might as well close up their theaters and turn them into garages.

Miss Lane, who won so much favor in "Paris House" is absolutely and unequivocally delightful in "The Torch Bearers." Mr. Thomson plays easily and gracefully, while Miss Wolfe is a "knock out" as the woman director of an amateur stage production.

People who have, at one time in their lives, participated in any theatrical production, and this means all people over three years old, will appreciate this jewel of a comedy. It starts off funny, gets funnier each moment and ends in a regular riot of fun. If any play can be funnier it would simply have to run for more minutes than "The Torch Bearers."

Haase Is Convinced.
Lewis Haase, Erlanger manager who witnessed the show for the first time, laughed more than he has laughed at any show in 20 years and sat through the entire performance, which is paying a great tribute to the show.

Mr. Haase, who is the impresario and major domo of the Erlanger activities both in Atlanta and Birmingham, already is well fortified in Birmingham and calls by their first names various theatrical managers, bell boys, policemen and firemen, political leaders, stage hands, musicians, taxi-cab drivers, railroad conductors and others. This activity in "putting it across" in Birmingham augurs well for the theatrical future of Atlanta, as the two cities now are linked in such a way that they probably will rise and fall together. He is certainly doing yeoman service in promoting the Wagner-Erlanger activities and he appears determined to make them successful. If he succeeds in Birmingham it means that Atlanta is to enjoy one of the greatest theatrical years in its history as far as the legitimate attractions are concerned.

Despite the fact that Birmingham is in the throes of a "flu" epidemic which is far more serious than the one recently experienced in Atlanta, the attendance has been unusually good during the present engagement of the Wagner company. The enthusiasm evinced over "The Torch Bearers" was even greater than that shown over "Paris House" and is an indication that the Wagner company is growing steadily in popularity here. The Erlanger interests certainly have gone to immense expense in rebuilding the old Jefferson theater here. It has been renovated from pit to dome and now is a modern theater in every respect. After playing "The Torch Bearers" here this week, the comedy will be taken to Atlanta for an engagement next week. The members of the company will make the trip to Atlanta in a special car over the Seaboard Air Line railroad.

The Erlanger theater in Birmingham is under the immediate direction of Raymond Hester, who is carrying out the same policy in Birmingham that has been adopted in Atlanta. This means that the Wagner players will appear part of the time here and the rest of the time will be devoted to the appearance of musical comedies and other road attractions. Edgar Runkle, personal representative of Mr. Wagner, is on the job both in Atlanta and Birmingham.

CARLTON STARTS FIRST SUGAR MILL IN FLORIDA

Governor Turns on Switch at Opening of New State Industry.

Clewiston, Fla., January 14.—(P)—Governor Doyle E. Carlton this afternoon touched a switch to inaugurate the making of sugar as a new Florida industry.

In an address, shortly before he started the wheels of the 1,500-ton sugar mill of the Southern Sugar company here, the governor lauded the pioneer spirit that has brought a new industry into Florida despite the handicaps confronting the builders.

The address was made at the administration building of the sugar company in this prairie town beside the great Lake Okechobee and was delivered to a crowd of 2,000 persons from many states and from over all Florida.

Among those present were John Hays Hammond, former ambassador to the court of St. James; Jesse Lasky, motion picture magnate; Thomas Meighan, actor; W. H. Croker, president of the San Francisco National bank; Gene Sarazen, golfing star; Mrs. Raymond Hitchcock, Glenn Curties, the aviation head; John Ringling, circus owner; George L. Eastman, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; F. A. Hartwell, publisher of the Hollywood magazine; W. C. Connors, of Palm Beach, builder of the Connors highway, and officials of the Southern Sugar company and their invited guests.

As Governor Carlton touched the switch, the mills in the sugar factory a mile away from him began their whirling to grind juice from Everglades muckland cane. Shortly thereafter, the guests of the company, transported to the mill, saw sugar being taken from the machines that had converted the juice into the finished product.

B. G. Dahlberg, president of the Southern Sugar company, spoke following the governor this afternoon. He told of his gratification at the opening of the first unit of his company's Florida sugar project.

"I feel that this project will convert thousands of Everglades mucklands into a productive area that will constitute the 'sugar bowl of the nation,'" he declared.

SEAWARD LEAGUE.

The Associated Reform Presbyterian five game with the Vanguard Club was able to score a 14-13 victory in an extra period game, in the Seaward league last night. J. O. Y. Class lost to the Decatur Presbyterians in a hard-fought game, 11 to 9, to upset the odds.

With the game knotted at the half-time ball at 7-7 all the Patulla Memorial hoopers were able to force ahead of the Galaxy Aces and emerge victors by a 19-15 count to go into a tie for second place. The Alpha Class won its game by excellent work of the guard.

Gaming Costs Tex $57,000 In One Night

Richard Tells How He Found His First Fortune and How He Lost It.

This is the only autobiography written by Tex Rickard. It was prepared in collaboration with Thomas Bulger, for publication exclusively for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance. Shortly before Rickard's death he discussed with Bulger plans for publication of these memoirs in book form. Following is the sixth installment of the autobiography, which is appearing in daily chapters.

BY TEX RICKARD, (In Collaboration With Thomas Bulger.)

(Copyright, 1929, by The North American Newspaper Alliance.)
We were sitting around a stove one night in a combination hardware, grocery, feed, clothes and liquor store in Henrietta, when one of the cattle-men got the letter from Jim Roberts, who had left his ranch in 1890 to go up to Alaska.

I was the town marshal of Henrietta then, wearing a blue uniform. To describe him, gold star, and everything. And let me tell you, I was getting mighty tired of the job. We hadn't any excitement for a month.

"Listen what Jim says," said the man who had got the letter, "so cold up there that he wanted to climb in the stove on top of the stove, but one feller said it wouldn't do no good 'cause some fool'd come along and leave the door open."

"Yes," said one of the old men in the group, "and they tell me whiskey freezes up there so hard that you can carry it around in your pocket like a plug of tobacco and bite off a drink whenever you feel like it."

"Wait a minute, fellows," begged the reader, "of Jim says he was in a gold strike and they dug more'n $50,000 worth of gold in a week."

The old fellows talked on about the money, but the young fellow named Will Slack and myself got to thinking about Alaska. The upshot of it was that we decided to hook up together and go after gold. It wasn't long before we were on our way.

In 1895 we landed at Juneau, Alaska, but found we hadn't really got started.

To begin with, we had to get a year's supply of grub and take it over the Chilkoot Pass to the lakes on the other side, 40 miles.

One night Slack came in after talking to a prospector.

"Man," he said, "do you know that after climbing that mountain over all that ice we got to hitch ourselves up and pull a sled more'n 300 miles?"

That made us think. But being young and full of pep we planned to try it.

First, we had to carry our stuff up the side of that steep mountain 5 miles to the top—one pack at a time. That was a job. We had to take a small load and then make another trip until we had the whole outfit on top. It took us more than a month.

On top we could load the stuff on sleds and slide down to the other side. After working ourselves into a perspiration we would nearly freeze when we stopped to rest. We certainly cooled off—and cooled off quick.

We piled up those sleds, hitched ourselves to them and pulled them 200 miles through the coldest, wildest region that any man ever saw. It was well along toward fall when we covered the chain of lakes and reached the head of the Yukon.

To describe that trip would take a book or two, and men like Rex Beach and Stewart Edward White have done it lots better than I could expect to do.

Will Slack stuck until his help was no longer needed and then told the world that we could have Alaska and he'd take Texas. He went back to Texas and was killed in a gun fight.

We wintered in Circle City and worked out from there in the spring. I was lucky enough to buy out the No. 3 and No. 4 claims of the Bonanza strike. This, however, was after I left Circle City and got into the Klondike.

George Cormack, who had an Indian wife, discovered the Bonanza lead. That was the first time I ever heard of a squaw man. That is what everybody called Cormack.

The squaw man had been on a moose hunting trip. On his way down a little river, which he afterward named the Bonanza, he stopped for water. Right on the edge of the stream his eye fell on a piece of gold. The rocks and sand in the swift water had worked at the gold until it was exposed.

No use for me to tell you what excitement there is over a gold strike. The odd part of it is that Cormack, even with millions in front of him, had not struck the richest part of gold at all. There were many fortunes in what he found, but on a little branch of the stream a little further up called the Eldorado—well, it was simply studded with gold. It would be difficult to count the millions of dollars taken out of there.

I staked out that one two Bonanza claims and had a half interest. They brought me in a lot of money.

I sold out my Bonanza interest and had about $60,000 in gold dust. Just like the others, I went in for a good time. Then it was that I first got the gambling fever.

Need Gambling House.
A man named Tom Turner had come in from the outside with news of how badly they needed a gambling house at Dawson.

The proprietor of a gambling house was much like a hotel or innkeeper. It was no cinch. There wasn't any graft. Nobody preyed on suckers. There were no suckers, to tell the truth. A gambling house was a sort of social headquarters.

I went in with Turner and we opened up a gambling house, drinking and eating place. We lasted about four months.

One night a lot of fellows came in to bet on the middle column and Nos. 17 and 23 of the roulette layout and hit us hard. If they won they'd simply pile on more gold dust in small stacks and tell us to roll. We rolled ourselves right out of house and home. At the same time they were taking us hard on fare.

As I say, the gambling house was no cinch. Later I will tell of a more exciting gambling adventure—of my rise to wealth in that country. This time, though, the finish is sad. I started in with $57,000 that I had left out of the Bonanza strike and lost every nickel of it. I was flat broke, and it was getting colder.

"Don't worry, my boy," a friendly old miner whispered to me the next day. "The 'P' striking it rich down at Rampart."

George Uhle Signs '29 Contract With Detroit
Detroit, Mich., January 14.—(P)—George Uhle, right-handed pitcher, retained from Cleveland in a trade which sent Jack Tavener, infielder, and Ken Holloway, pitcher, to the Indians, presented his signed contract for 1929 to President Frank J. Navin today.

A Difference that cannot be measured in Dollars

SOMEBODY suggests this simple test for automobile buyers. Write down the price of a New Pontiac Big Six. Now write below it the price of any lower-priced car you can think of. Subtract. Lo and behold! Only a few dollars difference! But what a difference there is in the cars—and it cannot be measured in dollars!

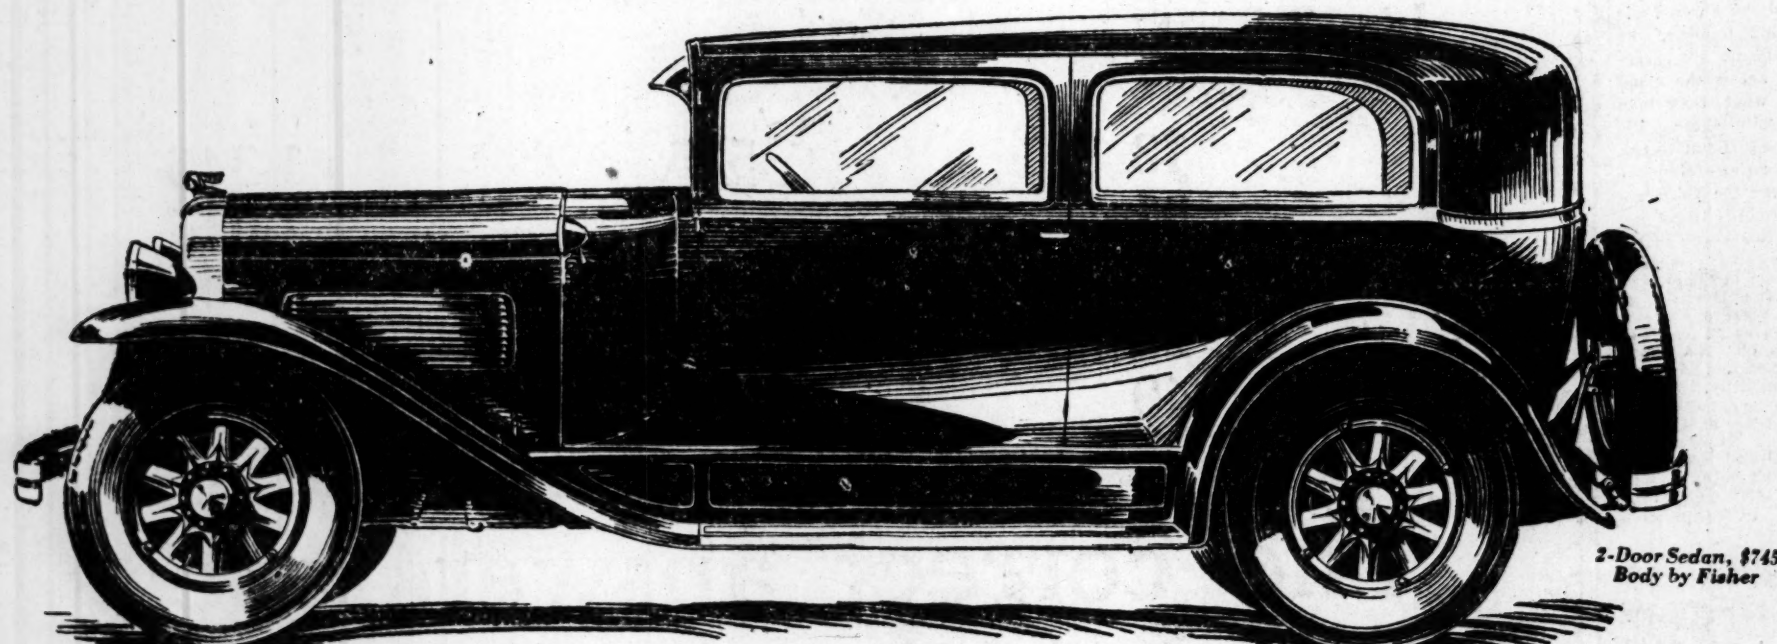

It's true, of course, that in the New Pontiac Big Six you get greater overall length, a bigger engine, the superiorities in styling, finish and safety that only Fisher bodies provide, and such fine car advantages as dirt-and-weather-proof internal four-wheel brakes. Those are features which can be measured in money. But the real difference is even more important than that.

It's really a matter of progress. When you're getting on in the world, you want finer things. You pass the point of getting along on just anything handy—any home, any furniture, any automobile. And that's where the Pontiac Big Six fits in.

It's a brand new car—one you can be really proud of without any great drain on your purse. It offers big car performance resulting from its big, new L-head engine, its accurately balanced rotating parts, Hotchkiss drive and its many other mechanical advancements. It offers the luxury, comfort, style and masterly construction provided in stunning new bodies by Fisher. Its top-speed lets you laugh at the limousines. Its acceleration sends you snapping away from the crowd.

Yes, you could always get that in an automobile. But never before at Pontiac's price. That's why the Pontiac Big Six is creating such a furore! There are a lot of progressive Americans who have always wanted to step up to a car like this. And now that it's here, they're telling the world about it!

Prices $745 and up, f. o. b. factory, plus delivery charges. Bumpers and rear fender guards regular equipment at slight extra cost. Check Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices—they include lowest handling charges. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. He tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 96 per cent, and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Jacobs' Drug Stores today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you, or costs you nothing.—(adv.)

Jackets Drill For Kentucky Cage Contest

Game Tomorrow Night Is Expected To Show Tech's Strength in Basketball.

Wildcat - Tornado Game Set for Wednesday

Due to an error in compilation of basketball schedules by the Associated Press, it was erroneously reported in The Constitution Monday that Kentucky would play Georgia Tech here both Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

BY HERB CLARK.

The missing of the Georgia game, which was to have been played last Saturday night at Athens, had a bad effect on Roy Mundorf's varsity cage squad at Tech.

In Monday's practice, facing a quintet of red-jerseyed scrubs, the Jackets went down to ignominious defeat before their lowly opponents, and played a desultory game of ball which would scarcely have won against many a high school team.

The Jackets were so far off form that the spectators were convinced that the team was broken up in the middle of the court with frequent, and when they did succeed in working the ball to scoring position, they always managed to miss the shot. The man-to-man defense used by the scrubs, and one which Tech will see often during the coming games, proved to be absolutely unfathomable, while the varsity's own style, a five-man type, was being sucked into all sorts of grotesque positions by the fast passing of the scrubs.

These red-jerseyed lads were on top for the scrimmage. Their passes were snapping home in the correct position, and the shooting of the man in the hole was usually good. Tiffin was the big noise of the day, covering the floor well and taking an active hand in all departments of the game.

The Jackets proved that they have much to learn about the court game, and with only one more day left to prepare for the coming of the Wildcats from Kentucky, will have to concentrate heavily if they hope to keep their present clean slate intact. It is probably that they will be able to work hard this afternoon, and probably harder tomorrow night.

British Golfers Will Invade U. S.

London, January 14.—(AP)—The British Ryder cup golf team for matches with professional golfers from the United States at Lake Umbagog, N. H., were named today by George Duncan as captain. Others nominated are Percy Alliss, Stewart Burns, Aubrey Boomer, Archie Compston, T. H. Cotton, Alie Mitchell, Fred Robinson, Charles Whitcombe and Ernest Whitcombe.

The United States team to defend the cup, held as a result of a 1927 victory at Worcester, Mass., has not been named, but will be captained by Walter Hagen and will include as a matter of course, the legend, the U. S. G. A. champion, and Johnny Farrell, the open titleholder of the United States.

Buzzard Invades Gene Sarazen's Car

Fort Myers, Fla., January 14.—(AP) Gene Sarazen, who has gathered many birds on the golf links this season and used an eagle to win the Miami Beach open, took an unexpected bird today.

A buzzard flew into the windshield of his automobile on the second hole of the Tamiami Trail on route to Clewiston. Negotiating the windshield, the buzzard flew out a back window. Neither Sarazen nor his guest was hurt.

Western Heights Wins Over Southern Team

The Western Heights girls' team defeated the Southern Railway girls' squad at Calvary court last night, 16 to 7.

Both teams depended largely on guarding, the close defensive accounting for the small score.

Indian Now

Jim Zinn, a 21-year-old twirler, has been purchased from the minors by the Cleveland Indians. The new major league veteran hopes to emulate the deeds of another old-timer whose name has the same ring—Jack Quinn, of the Athletics. The latter was 43 last year, but he won 18 games and lost only seven.

THREE BASKET TILTS BY PREP SCHOOLS TODAY

Six of Atlanta's prep teams will be hard at it this afternoon with three basketball games looked on as various courts over the city. In the feature game of the day Tech High will meet Marietta on the latter's court.

Tech High has a flock of veterans back for this season and is looking forward to a great year with such men as Chandler and Hammond and Mott. During the coming games, proved to be absolutely unfathomable, while the varsity's own style, a five-man type, was being sucked into all sorts of grotesque positions by the fast passing of the scrubs.

These red-jerseyed lads were on top for the scrimmage. Their passes were snapping home in the correct position, and the shooting of the man in the hole was usually good. Tiffin was the big noise of the day, covering the floor well and taking an active hand in all departments of the game.

The Jackets proved that they have much to learn about the court game, and with only one more day left to prepare for the coming of the Wildcats from Kentucky, will have to concentrate heavily if they hope to keep their present clean slate intact. It is probably that they will be able to work hard this afternoon, and probably harder tomorrow night.

Great Britain Polo Invasion Is Halted

Washington, January 14.—(United News)—There will be no British-American military polo tournament today, as the Central Polo association announced today.

The British war office has advised the military attaches of the American embassies in London that its army council is forced to decline an invitation to send a polo team to the United States in 1929.

Due to the fact that the J. P. C. team wanted to get in a good practice before the A. A. C. game Wednesday night and asked the Sunday School Athletic association to postpone its games until Thursday.

Peter De Paolo, Race Driver, Visits Atlanta

Famous Sports Star Former Winner of Indianapolis Speedway Event; Has Other Titles To Credit.

Peter De Paolo, one of America's leading exponents of getting around a board track in the least possible time, is visiting Atlanta. De Paolo is one of the few racers who know when to quit.

One of the two men ever to be twice champion of the world, he quit the game while he was still sound of body and not all "cracked up" as most are when they do get out.

De Paolo arrived in Atlanta Monday in line with his sales promotion work for the Reo Motor Car company. He will be in the city for several days. The champion racer began his career at 16 under the tutelage of his uncle, the famous Ralph DePalma, gray-headed veteran of the track. DePalma after working with the lad told him that he would never make a racer so Peter went to the Pacific coast, started, was cracked up five times out of six starts, finally secured a good car and began winning races.

He broke into the championship class in 1925 when he won 11 races out of 13 starts. In the two he failed to win, De Paolo finished second, which gave a total of 3,200 points for the year and the title of champion.

In 1927 he won the famous 500-mile race held on May 30 of that year at the speedway in Indianapolis, Ind. De Paolo's fastest time is 148 miles per hour, attained in the race at Indianapolis, and though faster time has been made by some people, De Paolo says that it's exciting enough when one is bumping around the rather rough brick track at Indianapolis.

Tex Rickard Is Succeeded By Three Men

Carey, McArdele, Hammond Will Carry on Work of Promoter, Says Garden Chief.

New York, January 14.—(AP)—For the next two or three months at least the destinies of Madison Square Garden will be in the hands of a trio that includes William F. Carey, Colonel John S. Hammond and Tom McArdele. This has been made clear by Richard F. Hoyt, chairman of the board of the Garden corporation.

The responsibilities of the Garden laid down in death will be distributed among Carey, first vice president and treasurer of the corporation; Hammond, vice president and a managing general partner, and McArdele, matchmaker.

On the eve of his departure on a cruise of more than a month, Hoyt outlined the situation at the garden as he and his associates saw it. "The men in charge now are perfectly capable of handling any matter," he declared. "Carey, Hammond and McArdele constitute a combination which is satisfactory from every standpoint and regardless of the fact that the death of Mr. Rickard, no change is contemplated in the organization as it is at present constituted. It is only a matter of loyalty that we give the men in control now a chance to direct affairs."

Both Mr. Carey and Colonel Hammond are good business men and Tom McArdele is there to advise them with respect to boxing. Carey built the garden and had been associated with Mr. Rickard over a stretch of years which afforded him ample time to familiarize himself with the direction of the business.

"Personally I see no reason for ever changing the management as it now stands. Certainly nothing will be done for two or three months. Many names have been discussed as eligibles for the vacant post of Rickard, but so far as I know no particular name is under consideration. I doubt if any name will be made."

If there is any definite plan to engage Mayor James J. Walker for the post Hoyt said he knew nothing of it. His name is just one of 500 or so mentioned as likely successors to Mr. Rickard," Hoyt said with a smile.

Famous Visitor

I recall a certain short hole—about 180 yards in length—at Hot Springs, Va. The hole was elevated, so I suggested to Rickard to use an iron. He insisted it was a brassie shot. He used a three-quarter stroke, spared the wall, and when the ball stopped about 100 yards from the pin, Tex almost jumped from the tee into a 20-foot depression below. The promoter who had remained cooler than ice while inspecting his two-million-dollar crowds at Philadelphia and Chicago was so excited over this golf shot to speak coherently for several seconds. Golf happened to catch him at the start of the first play time he had ever known.

Horseless Carriages.

THE week of mortgage making is at hand. These horseless carriage folk are lying in wait at the city auditorium for any unsuspecting relative of E. Pluribus Public. The gas-buggy exposition of the southeast is now in progress and no piece of real or personal property subject to first, second or third mortgage is safe.

Unless the public is possessed of iron nerve and will power plus, at least half of us will enter the auditorium this week with the Old Homestead under one arm and a bright resolve under the other, only to come out a few minutes later with a mortgage and a lot of notes under one flipper and a nice new shiny chug-wagon trailing behind.

And why not? It has been said that we live but once and not so long at that. It has also been said that we stand a much better chance to live INSIDE the chug-buggy than OUTSIDE. Alas and alack. It's going to be hard times for the pedestrians when this show is over.

Atlanta has staged a few automobile shows before and they have been called great. But they weren't. They were just foul balls compared to this latest effort. Upstairs and down the old shack that goes by the name of auditorium is reeking with the smell of auto polish and humming with the voices of salesmen who are "only too glad to show you, madame, without any obligation."

They have cars running on endless-chain thingamajigs and they have cars turning around on pedestals and still others running naked, so to speak, with all the works open to view. In fact they have automobiles doing almost everything they can do except get stuck in the mud and there is no mud so they can't be expected to do this.

One well-known brand of automobile occupies a goodly bit of floor space and announces that fact from some kind of a loud speaker hidden under the hood of one of the contraptions. "The poor public again. You don't have to listen to a salesman but you can't escape that doggone thing. That idea doesn't seem so warm anyway. Who wants an automobile that talks about the ride after it's over? Or crosses back at you when you kick it in the chin for not starting on a cold morning? Those folks will lose a lot of sales among the college boys with their loud-speaking gas-buggies."

If Atlanta has a Rip Van Winkle asleep somewhere up in the great still country of North Georgia now is the time for him to return. He can get to the auditorium and see what a difference 20 years has made in mechanical America. While dialoging his whiskers from fan belts he can look around and get some idea of Atlanta's progressive spirit. That automobile show, folks, is not just a thing of beauty. It's a mark of progress in Atlanta and it's a dead cinch if you must mortgage the old homestead it couldn't be done at a better time or place than at the Southeastern Automobile show in the auditorium.

Every now and then the Gate City of the South steps out and puts over something in a "big way." This auto show is one of those things.

Be SPORTS LIGHT

It Ought To Be "Sockey"
I don't like the name
Of a certain sweet game,
The game that they table as hockey;
They knock them so flat
That I really think that
The name of the game should be "socky."

It's the simplest trick
To trip with the stick
Or rap out a couple of teeth,
And the customers roar
If there isn't some gore
Or cause for donating a wreath.

If you want to see speed
Just gather an eyeful of hockey;
If you want to see nice
Semi-murder on ice
Go see what they ought to call "socky."

One of Rickard's Big Moments.
It has been said that Tex Rickard was never excited, even in the midst of his two record-breaking Tunney-Dempsey fights.

Atlanta Fans To See Many Major Clubs

Yankees, Cardinals, Reds and Robins Among Those To Play Here in Spring.

BY HORACE C. RENEGAR.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Home boys of the three principal Dixie minor leagues will get their fling against major opposition this spring as the big circuit squads shore northward following conditioning drills.

Thirteen major league clubs already have announced their spring training schedules showing 47 games listed against teams of the Southern association, the South Atlantic association, and the Southeastern league.

Thirty-four of the contests will be in cities of the Southern, eight games go to the Southeastern and five to the Sally.

Big Times for Atlanta.

New Orleans and Memphis will get more romps than the others with eight each. Cleveland, training in the Crescent City again, will furnish four to the Pelicans, however, while Memphis meets the Pirates in four stands, the Giants twice and the Browns and White Sox.

The Cards, Robins, Yankees and Reds all come to Atlanta, St. Louis and Brooklyn playing two games each. Birmingham, on the basis of schedules announced, will see five games between the Barons and the big tenters. The Yankees, Indians, Browns and Reds provide the opposition.

As for Sally exhibitions, the Cardinals, Robins and Reds all have stopovers set for Macon.

Many of the American and National league clubs have scheduled games between teams of their own rank on the barnstorming trip home, however.

Uzzudun Ready To Battle Risko

New York, January 14.—(AP)—Paulino Uzzudun, Spanish heavyweight, returned to New York from Panama today after defending his European championship against Jack Renault in Cali, Colombia. He said he was ready to fight Tom Heeney in the upper bracket of the current heavyweight championship tournament as soon as the match could be arranged.

The Bounding Basque picked Young Stribling, the clowning Georgian to defeat Jack Sharkey in the first of the elimination bouts the late Tex Rickard planned for this season. He has high hopes that Jack Dempsey will return to the ring and oppose him in a match for the heavyweight title Gene Tunney vacated.

Heavy Losses By Graduation Will Injure Chance for Next Season; Freshmen To Give Good Prospects.

BY BOB SHERRARD.

Athens, Ga., January 14.—Spring football practice at the University of Georgia will not begin until after the basketball season has ended, March 4, Coach Harry Mehre stated tonight.

A few backs, however, will go through some light exercises prior to the start of the season.

The Red and Black Bulldogs are going to incur heavy losses by graduation. In fact, 10 of the 18 letter men have completed their college careers in three years of football.

The entire first string backfield graduates, including Harry Hill, Bobby Hooker, Frank Dwyer, and Herdis McCarty. As only five letters were awarded to backs this fall, Benny Rothstein is the only lettered back to remain.

Joe Martin is the only end who has seen his time. Smith, Haffett and Palmer returning. Lavett, who leaves a gap at tackle with Frisbie, Bryant and Stelling back. The entire strength at guard is gone. Haley, Huff and Jacobson all being seniors. Lanford leaves the center position to captain-elect Boland.

A contract to play baseball in San Francisco has brought the great-grandson of Princess Likelike, Henry K. Oana, from his native Hawaii to the United States. NATS FORESEE GREAT SEASON UNDER JOHNSON

BY PAUL N. SEXTON.

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—If sentiment can win baseball games the Washington Senators will start the 1928 playing season with a big lead over the other American league entries.

This is because in selecting Walter Johnson to replace Buddy Harris, who goes to Detroit, Clark Griffith has touched a soft spot in the hearts of thousands of capital fans.

The return of the "Big Train," for twenty years the hurrying ace of the Senators after a brief absence as manager of the Newark club, has undoubtedly bolstered the morale of the Griffith cast.

Other Reasons.

Aside from this, however, the Senators have other reasons for their pre-season confidence, chief of which is the promise of a revamped infield, a more effective outer defense and some promising new pitching material from the minors.

The acquisition of Buddy Myer, brought back from Boston in a deal that cost Griffith five players, is expected to brace the inner wall effectively. Johnson believes that with Myer at third, Ossie Bluege can be switched to short where he played when he first entered the big show. The perennial Joe Judge will again decorate first base, and Johnson has the choice of at least three newcomers to plug the gap at second left by Harris' departure. They are Joe Cronin, Kansas City graduate; John Stewart, recalled from Birmingham, and Jack Hays, who has seen service here before.

The belief of "Gooey" Goslin, leading hitter of the league last season, that his throwing arm has returned to form is one of the main factors in Johnson's hope for a more efficient outfield. Goslin's inability to get away from the bases left him out of Washington more than one game last year.

Sam West, who had a fielding average last year of .986, will again be in center field, either Sam Rice or Emile Barnes in right.

Garland Braxton, most effective pitcher of the league last year, will head the mound staff, supported by Sam Jones, Fred Marberry, Irving Hadley, Bob Burke and Lloyd Brown, in addition to some talent from the minors. Weaver from Chattanooga, Cantrell from Baltimore, Campbell from St. Paul, Hopkins from Montreal and Liska from Minneapolis, look the most promising of the new material. Liska is a 20-year-old youngster who led the American association in 1928 with twenty wins and four defeats. Griffith got him for a reported outlay of $25,000.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 8

Lord Greytoke knew his chances with this ferocious monster were small. He thought of his wife—what would become of her? There was yet a slight chance of reaching the cabin. He ran, shouting to his wife to close the great door should the enraged ape cut off his retreat.

The brute succeeded in intercepting Greytoke. He stood at bay, grasping his axe with both hands, and swinging it upon the infuriated animal when he made its final charge. "Close and bolt the door, Alice," cried Greytoke. He knew he was facing a horrible death—and so did she!

"Alice," shouted Greytoke, "for God's sake go back!" The ape charged—the man swung his axe with mighty strength, but the powerful brute tore from Greytoke's hands, hurled it far to one side and with an angry snarl closed upon its defenseless victim. Came a sharp report and a bullet entered the ape's back! The beast turned upon its new enemy, Lady Greytoke, terrified, tried to fire another bullet. Greytoke, regaining his feet, rushed to drag the ape from his wife's presence. The bullet had done its work! The ape was dead.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

New York, January 14.—Poor wire service resulting from yesterday's widespread storms was largely responsible for a very quiet opening on the stock market. Prices were ragged, a majority of stocks opening lower.

For the first hour the price trend was downward, especially after the money opened at 7 with the supply limited. In the second hour outflow wires that had been out of commission began to operate and the volume of trading in stocks increased with the price trend upward. Allied Chemical and Wright gained 8 points each, with motors, steel, rubber shares following.

United States Rubber preferred and common both were very active and strong. Steel shares were strong on the appearance of President Harding, of Republic, before the tariff commission of congress asking for a higher tariff on steel. Topping started that because of lower ocean freight rates and lower wages, foreign steel manufacturers could lay down steel at Atlantic prices $9 under prices quoted by our manufacturers. Topping said that further gains in operating efficiency were expected by steel manufacturers, but not enough to overcome the low ocean freight rates and the lower wages paid by foreign steel manufacturers.

Bethlehem was outstanding among steel shares with Wall street learning that the directors of the company were scheduled to meet January 24 to act on dividends. It is understood that the outlook for the company promised $4 earned for the common stock the first quarter of 1929. Wall street expects dividends to be resumed on the common stock at the annual rate of $4 and possibly $5. Bethlehem paid its quarterly dividend of 1-1/4 per cent on October 1, 1924, after having greatly increased its operating capitalization in taking over a number of independent plants.

New High for Ford Output. Some Wall street observers are wondering if the automobile industry as a whole stock marketwise is making sufficient allowances for steadily increasing Ford production. It is understood that Ford's daily production last week made a new high for the model A cars at 6,500 or 7,000 for the week against 31,500 for the previous week, with 1,000 sold for the corresponding week of 1928. It is understood that the November registration figures will show Ford ahead of General Motors cars. For September and October Ford went ahead of Chevrolet alone. It is understood that Ford registrations were 35 per cent of the country's total against 22 per cent for General Motors, also that Ford ran far ahead in the commercial end with sales 40 per cent of the country's total against 31 per cent for General Motors.

Late in 1927 and early in 1928 automobile manufacturers, especially BLACK LAUDS FLORIDA FINANCES' GUARDIANS

Tampa, Fla., January 14.—(P)—Governor E. B. Black, of the Federal Reserve bank at Atlanta, Ga., took the occasion here to compliment the guardians of finances in Florida, on their business ability. The federal reserve system has never had a better guardian in Florida than the late Governor Black, who was in the state for 12 years of their relations. Speaking of resources he said Florida people have more deposits than those of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee put together.

The governor, Oscar D. Newton, chairman of the board, Edmund Platt, of Washington, D. C., will be accompanied by his wife and daughter, and will be way to Havana to inspect new quarters of the Havana agency of the reserve bank.

Describing finances in Cuba, Governor Black said the Atlanta institution kept about $200,000,000 in the Havana branch as a reserve for use of other banks on the island. The Cuban currency consisted of about $80,000,000 worth of notes of the Atlanta bank, he added. The branch was established in 1923.

General Motors, began to strip to the waist expecting a big fight with Ford, but unexpectedly slow in getting into production on his new car, it being a factor in the market until well along in early autumn of 1928, with General Motors and other manufacturers profiting accordingly. Today Ford is far ahead of where other manufacturers feared he would be at this time last year. Ford did lose when a machine as big as Ford's gets up to a certain speed it is comparatively easy from then on to gain momentum.
